*NORDLICHT'S FILLY FOAL

The name *Nordlicht is like ringing a bell at a starting gate. It is almost certain to start an argument. Seldom if ever has the entry of a foreign horse caused such a controversy and seldom has the Jockey Club been confronted with so confusing a situation. The matter is once again before the public and the action of the official racing body has again been misquoted and improperly understood. Inasmuch as many Chronicle readers have taken a keen interest in this whole *Nordlicht matter and inasmuch as a number of horses foaled by *Nordlicht have just recently been presented to The Jockey Club to be enrolled for racing purposes, the present decision of The Jockey Club and its action is deserving of comment.

First of all *Nordlicht has not been registered in the Jockey Club Registry Office. His name does not appear in its official records. No foal of *Nordlicht appears in the registry of the Jockey Club, nor as far as the Jockey Club is concerned, will foals by this German import ever appear as Thoroughbred horses. Where the confusion has arisen a second time about *Nordlicht is in the improper use of the word registration. To The Jockey Club Registration means a foal has been duly entered in the Stud Book and has been registered as a Thoroughbred. As such he is eligible to race under section 59A of the rules of racing that state, "No horse may start in any race unless duly registered in the Registry Office and duly named."

Only those horses are eligible for registry which authentically trace, in all of their lines to animals recorded in the American Stud Book or in a Stud Book of another country recognized by The Jockey Club . . . Rule 64.

When confronted with the registration of *Nordlicht, The Jockey Club decided they would not register this horse. Their grounds were the inadequate proof the horse was *Nordlicht, winner of the German Derby, and the non-existence of the German Stud Book immediately after the war. To all intents and purposes, in this country at least, the German Jockey Club had ceased to exist.

This automatically meant that *Nordlicht could not race in this country nor could any foals by *Nordlicht race except for the new Rule 59 (b). This rule leaves a loophole and it is upon the interpretation of this rule that the current confusion has arisen.

"59 (b). If for any reason ineligible for registration, or pending inquiry as to eligibility, a horse foaled outside of the United States, Canada, Cuba or Mexico, and imported into the United States, may be submitted by the owner for approval solely for racing purposes if the application is accompanied by such information as the Stewards of the Jockey Club shall require; whereupon, if said Stewards shall consider that the horse has an outstanding racing record and that the application and accompanying information meet the requirements prescribed by said Stewards, they may in their discretion direct the Executive Secretary or other person authorized by them to issue a permit granting racing privileges only for such horse; or upon proper application with satisfactory accompanying information, submitted by the owner of first generation offspring foaled in the United States of such horse and of a registered mare or stallion, or by the owners of said offspring's progeny foaled in the United States and having a registered dam or sire, they may in their discretion direct the issuance of such a permit for such offspring or progeny provided that, if no such permit shall have been issued for such imported horse, said Stewards shall consider that such horse was qualified for such a permit.

"Application for such a permit for such a horse must be made to The Jockey Club within thirty days of the arrival of the horse in the United States and the fee shall be $50, which will include the permit. In case of failure to apply for a permit within the thirty-day period, and upon proof that failure to do so was unintentional or accidental, such a permit may be issued upon payment of $200 if, but only if, application is made within three months after arrival.

"Application for such a permit for such offspring or progeny foaled after April 1st, 1949, must be made by January 1st of its two-year-old year. In the case of such offspring or progeny foaled prior April 1st, 1949, said Stewards in their discretion may receive and act upon such an application made after January 1st of its two-year-old year. If a permit shall be granted in either such case, the fee shall be $50, which will include the permit."

The Jockey Club is now faced with a number of foals and with some interested citizens who felt that *Nordlicht was a good opportunity to secure foreign blood from the U. S. Government standing the horse as its property. This same blood, if offered privately, would naturally have cost many times more, hence what with all the publicity about the German importation, American citizenry were truly interested, particularly as the blood wasn't being offered to everybody.

To allow the offspring to race, the Jockey Club stretched old Rule 59 (b) to include foals of horses foaled outside of the U. S. A.,

Canada, Cuba and Mexico, and by approving them solely for racing purposes, they had an answer to the dilemma. Under this new rule one horse has received a permit, a filly foal by *Nordlicht entitled Norkit and out of a registered Remount mare, Reno Kit. This permit means Norkit can race. It does not mean she has been registered, that her foals can be registered or that she is in any sense of the word a Thoroughbred. She has been recorded for racing purposes only. Outside of her name appearing in the Racing Calendar under racing permits granted, what happens to Norkit is Norkit's business. It is not the official concern of the Keepers of the Stud Book.

Letters To The Editor

Your Seat Higher

Dear Editor:

Most equitation classes in most horse shows are split into two general divisions—saddle seat, and hunter seat. This is of course as it should be.

One wonders, however, if there perhaps should be a third division—one for riders who use the military (or balanced or forward or whatever one wants to call it) seat. Regardless of whether one prefers the hunting seat or the military seat—this is no attempt to start an argument about that!—both exist, and by existing, present problems for judges, riders, and instructors.

Several judges have told me that they pay no attention to the particular seat ridden—that they simply pin the better riders. I have no doubt at all that they are sincere about this. But it is only human nature to think that the rider who uses the seat you prefer is better than the one who uses another seat. If the decision is at all close, you are bound to place "your seat" higher than the other.

We have all seen it happen—fine hunter-seat riders placed down by military-seat judges; fine military-seat riders pinned down by hunter-seat riders. One cannot possibly blame the judges—they are being asked to do the impossible, to disregard their own beliefs and convictions. But one is sorry for the riders—the children—concerned; they are penalized for doing what they have been taught, which naturally

Bryn Mawr-Chester County Shows

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kehoe's Magno Grand Champion Hunter; Springsbury Farm's Moonlight Bay Reserve Grand Champion

Andy Ebelhare

The Combined Shows, the Bryn Mawr Horse Show and the Chester County Horse Show, started off with a rainy evening performance on Thursday, September 22. This, however, failed to lessen the enthusiasm of the owners and riders and the subsequent large crowds of spectators which turned out for the Friday and Saturday performances.

The show was held on the famous Devon (Pa.) Show Grounds. This in itself makes for a successful show with the fine permanent facilities which the Devon plant offers.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kehoe's brilliant, little, grey working horse, Magno, won the Henry C. Vaughan Memorial Cup for the grand champion hunter of the show. This class was open to the champions and reserve champions in the conformation, working, and green division (if the latter were qualified by winning a blue or two reds over a four foot hunter course).

The grand champion hunter was the horse which, in the opinion of the judges, had given the most consistent performance throughout the show. Magno was the logical choice.

With Mrs. Kehoe up throughout the show, he won the working championship. He started off a little slow but finished with a grand slam by winning the $1,000 stake on Saturday and the Thomas W. Clark Memorial Trophy class for open working hunters. The most brilliant of his many brilliant rounds came in the Jacques Allez Challenge Cup Class for open working hunters on Friday afternoon.

Reserve grand champion to Magno was the Springsbury Farm's Moonlight Bay. This horse was reserve green champion to Springsbury's Sultan's War. Sultan's War, however, did not qualify for the grand championship because he was not shown in any of the conformation classes over fences, but Moonlight Bay went in both divisions (and incidentally more classes than any other horse in the show) and qualified by winning two reds over the big outside course.

Sultan's War, the most handsome green horse we've seen this year, was a half point behind Moonlight Bay when they went into the preliminary, but he won it, with Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe's Past Time 2nd and Moonlight Bay 3rd. This made Sultan's War champion by one point and the winner of the Devon Challenge Trophy for the champion green conformation hunter.

Mr. Joseph A. Hale's *Golden Hill went consistently and well throughout the show to win the conformation championship. Mr. Hale rode the big chestnut himself in several classes and Miss Betty Jane Baldwin was aboard in the ladies' class, the Corinthian, the stake and the preliminary. The conformation stake in the ring, over a course with a 4'-6" fence going out of the in and out, was won on Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Alan R. Robson's Brandon King which took the reserve conformation championship.

Freeland Evans up on the Sterling Smith open horses overwhelmed the other jumpers; Mr. Smith's Sun Beau was champion and his Little John reserve.

It is interesting to look at the accomplishments of this stable mathematically. Each of the five horses was in every one of the eight open jumping classes. They won six 1sts, four 2nds and three 3rds. Out of the total prize money of $1,560 they won $843.75 or well over half. And of the 98 points toward the championship they accumulated 51, 19 of which were won by Sun Beau and 13 by Little John. Freeland Evans entered the ring about 50 times and jumped, not counting schooling, over 400 fences in the three days.

The toughest class of the show was the F. E. I. Prix des Nation on Saturday afternoon. There were eighteen fences with the lowest at 4'-4". The three fences in the double in and out went from 4'-4" to 4'-10".

Three Sterling Smith horses, Mr. Chips, Little John, and Happy Landing, finished 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. Mr. Chips, the last horse to enter the ring, had the only clean round to win the class. John Totton's Birdwood Hazard with Frank Snyder up was 4th.

There was a well filled breeding division on Friday afternoon sponsored by the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders' Association. The Rolling Rock Farms shipped down six young entries for these events and their Silver Mink (Grand Time—Aquabelle), winner of the 2-year-old Thoroughbred class, was adjudged best young horse and winner of the Mapleton Challenge cup. A bay filly by *Rufigi—Baby Sweeney from the Rolling Rock Farms was the winner of the yearling class.

An event of interest to exhibitors and spectators is the Boxwood Challenge trophy class. It was held on Thursday afternoon this year and it is for six owner-riders who judge themselves. In the event each rider shows his horse over a working hunter course in the ring while the other contestants judge him. Each other contestant gives every other horse the number of points he thinks he deserves and all are totaled up after all horses have gone. The horse with the greatest number of points wins.

Mrs. Kehoe and her Magno were defending their win of last year but they ended up in 6th place this year. Mrs. Nelson Slater (riding sidesaddle, as she did throughout the show) on her Mike Mullen, won the class with a total of 425 points to Charlie Lyman, Jr. and his Scamp's 419 1-2. Hugh Wiley and Blue Ridge had 385 while Jean Cochrane and her My Chance had 368 1-2. Mr. Henry C. Biddle, Jr., was the 5th contestant on Handsome Harry.

On Friday night Springsbury Farm's Moonlight Bay won the hunter sweepstake for the Fifth Radnor Challenge Cup. This was quite an accomplishment for a green horse because one of the fences was 4'-6". This gave Mr. and Mrs. Greenhagh their second leg on the trophy, Billy Do having won it in 1940.

And then, of course, on Saturday morning there were the children. The children that always fill the Devon grounds to overflowing with horses and ponies and on occasion even donkeys. They came to the Combined Shows in the usual multitudes.

One can imagine how many children and horses and ponies there were when we observe that there were 17 teams in the children's hunt team class. When they lined up they literally filled the ring from one end to the other. It is interesting to note out of the 51 mounts that negotiated the 3'-6" outside course in this class only two had rails down. Jane Howland on Bill Douglas' Quaker Maid, Joan Ferguson and her Mr. Star and Betsy Lockhart on Taffey won this enormous class.

The children had a modified F. E. I. class but it didn't stay modified long because they were soon jumping off at 4'-0". Mildred Kindian up on her big, former open jumper, Son of K., won the class with a clean round in the last jump off.

Canadian Horse Shows

VERNON CARDY'S STABLE was outstanding at the Canadian National Exhibition Horse Show in Toronto and then went on to gather more glory at the Liesse Hunt Horse Show in Montreal, where the first four places in the working hunter class went to Cardy horses! Mrs. George Walker has just pinned the ribbons on the winners (l. to r.), Flying Colors and Bob Egan were 1st; Maple Leaf and Miss Helen Ferguson, 2nd; Eglinton and Mrs. Bob Egan 3rd; and Times Square and Vernon G. Cardy, 4th. (ABC News Photo)

Canadian National Horse Show

Flying Colors Outstanding Among Numerous Jumper Entries; Victory Tops Hunters; Breeding Classes Very Interesting

Broadview

The Canadian National Exhibition Horse Show, like the Royal Winter Fair, is a weathervane for trends and interests in the Canadian horse show world. Due to the magnitude of the country, a true picture can never register by viewing one locality, but the best stables in the country try to ship to these two major Canadian shows held in Ontario.

The National Horse Show, held from Sept. 2 to the 10th at Toronto, in connection with the Canadian National Exhibition, the largest annual fair in the world, was one of the finest and best run shows in recent years.

Jumper classes were very large with up to 60 entries. Courses were substantial and without wings. Top performances were numerous but we would say the jumping on the average was below par. Vernon G. Cardy's pinto, Flying Colors (the former Flamingo), was ridden by Robert Egan throughout the 8-day show to be the most consistent horse in the jumper ranks. He won the open performance and the $1,000 jumper sweepstake. W. R. Ballard rode his well known Skip Across to win the final performance of the touch and out stake.

The Canadian Equestrian Team was not too fortunate but accounted for the novice jumpers with Wildaire and the big 5'-0" class when Tom Gayford piloted Chamorro to top place.

The working hunter division proved popular despite the commencement of the hunting season. Most people in these parts don't want to miss a day's hunting in the comparatively short season.

Hunter classes were large and strong, from the suitable through to the open events. This was encouraging, for the overall caliber of conformation hunters has been under par here this year at other shows. Certainly invading entries from Vernon G. Cardy's stable, Val David, Quebec, and W. A. Arenz of Buffalo, N. Y., contributed toward raising the standard but there were some good local entries too, especially in the suitable and green classes.

Mrs. Robert C. Egan's California-bred Victory, proved the outstanding hunter at the show. His smooth, consistent performances annexed many ribbons.

J. Elliott Cottrelle's stable of hunters took the most blues for any one exhibitor. He was especially successful with his young hunters. The brown gelding, Flagalla, the most impressive of the lot, won the suitable and lightweight green hunters.

The Canadian-bred hunter stake and the Seagram Challenge Trophy went back over the border with W. A. Arenz when his handsome big chestnut, Winston, bred in Ontario by Lady Eaton, topped a good class of 14 Canadian-breds.

The breeding classes are always of interest to horsemen. Thoroughbred classes were not large and exhibitors with few exceptions represented horse show interests rather than breeders of race horses. The Ontario Jockey Club's sterling silver challenge trophy for the best Thoroughbred stallion went to Dr. R. K. Hodgson, well known veterinary and trainer, whose new stallion Jaco Royal (by Jack High) was pinned grand champion.

Grand champion Thoroughbred mare was G. B. Heintzman's lovely big chestnut, Sundee, by *Sun Power.

Sydney W. Glass of West Chester, Pa., was impressed with the entries he judged in the hunter breeding classes. These mares had size, scope and quality, a tribute to years of effort on the part of the Light Horse Improvement Society, especially as much good ground work was lost during the war years. This year there were only 8 entries but I have never before seen such evenness of type and excellence as was shown this year. Crosses of the cold blooded draft type have almost disappeared in the Half-bred classes. The mares usually have two or more crosses of Thoroughbred blood and there seems more of a preference toward coaching breeds to get substance than toward draft breeds.

These breeding classes were divided into three sections; one for Half-bred hunters, one for Half-breds to make riding horses and one for Canadian hunters which now is a regular breed with its own stud book in Ottawa. A yearling and a 2-year-old class was offered for Canadian hunters, each having 9 entries.

The division in the Canadian hunter and Light Horse Improvement Society between colts suitable to make hunters and ones suitable to

Liesse Hunt Club Show

Vernon G. Cardy's Horses Take 8 Blues and Total of 30 Ribbons For Outstanding Record In All Divisions

The Traveler

"Rain, rain, stay away, we's got a horse show today," was the mournful plea from the Liesse Hunt Club show officials, September 17 and 18 at Montreal, Quebec. Prayers were answered or at least half answered on Saturday. Although dark clouds hovered overhead all day the heavens didn't really open their pearly gates until Sunday's performance. The horse show spirit over-shadowed the "heavy dew" and black skies and the show went on. Large classes and high competitive spirit prevailed and all exhibitors seemed to enjoy themselves.

Vernon G. Cardy and his fine string of hunters and jumpers complete with 2 vans and house trailer (the only dry place on the grounds) were present for the top quality two day affair. Bob Egan, manager of the Cardy Farms, showed his excellent horsemanship ability and management to bring this stable out on top with 8 out of 13 blues with a total of 30 ribbons. Flying Colors, C. N. E. champion, really has come into his own with Mr. Egan in the saddle. This dynamic ring contender scored 3 out of 5 wins. Another winner for the Cardy Farms was the consistent going Maple Leaf ridden by Miss Helen Ferguson; First Today, outstanding young hunter, shown by Mrs. Robert Egan, scored in the green and the ladies' and hack, respectively. The old faithful, Prince Tex, came through when things were tight. Hangover, proved a worthy stablemate for the Cardy open horse contingent. Mr. Cardy rode his champion Times Square to several good classes. The hunt teams usually a spotlight in any program was a dreadful disappointment to any brave spectator that might have braved the rainstorm. With more than 8 teams entered only two showed over the slightly subterranean outside course. After both teams changed positions several times and added up a few downs, the only way the well soaked judges could decide the winner was to see which team was the dryer. Rain-slickers gave the H. J. O'Connell team a slight edge and they received the blue. The R. Lelarge entry looking slightly drenched was 2nd.

The on the spot presentations of the cash prizes and the general friendliness of the horse show officials served to brighten the two day charity event, even though the weather wasn't so obliging. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bedford of Fallston, Maryland, certainly deserve a vote of thanks for their good job of judging. Thanks, however, can hardly compensate for the long hours, wet feet and cold hands the Bedfords so graciously put up with. Even to judging a class or two with the only light being from a few parked cars, but the visiting Marylanders came out smiling. With all this the Kinsman Club of Montreal sponsored a real success.

Farmington Hunt Club Horse Show

Portmaker Grand Champion; Circus Rose Takes Jumper Tri-color; Baby Seal Tops Working Hunter Division

Pickens Hamilton

Usually this time of year entries begin to dwindle, interest tends to wane and there is a lull before the fall indoor circuits. However, Farmington Hunt Club Horse Show had top entries and plenty of them for its show held at Farmington, Va., on September 17-18.

The show was held just outside of Charlottesville on the edge of a big woods at the new grounds. Like quite a few of the Virginia shows, the ring has a dirt track (which makes the footing more level) with grass in the middle. An outside course circles through part of the woods and back into the ring, giving a natural effect to the plank and post and rail fences. An added attraction this year was the National Horse Show's own Course K for some of the more important hunter classes.

The Alex Calverts came down from Warrenton with two horses and made it known to all that they were there. They really cleaned up with the Dr. Alvin I. Kays' renowned campaigner, Portmaker, and their own new 3-year-old, Southern Star.

Portmaker, with Mrs. Calvert riding, began with a 4th in open hunters, a 1st in hunters under saddle (Alex Calvert rode him in this one), was on top in the model and after a superb round in the stake, wound up conformation hunter champion in front of Mrs. Amory Lawrence's Highlander.

Circus Rose, a personable loped grey mare by Great War, was queen bee in the jumper ranks. Ridden by her owner, John C. Hopewell, she was in top form this trip, collecting two blues and a red for 13 points and the jumper championship.

Spunky Fisher (who is still in Virginia making it hot for the open people) and his mare, Reckless, followed right behind with 9 points and the reserve jumper championship.

Also outstanding, and spectacular to say the least, was a brown 3-year-old from Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cirillo's Brown Bomber. This colt, with Gene Cunningham as jock, placed 3rd in the difficult Olympic class and then came on to win the touch and out. A little more experience (this was his 2nd show!) and he'll be one to beat.

Southern Star was really just that, a star, in the green hunter section. With Billy Thomas (who incidentally, now owns her) and Alex Calvert alternately in the saddle, she won every class she was in except the green working (where she placed 2nd) and the stake. At the head of the line in the stake, the bay filly jogged out a wee bit gimpy, after having grabbed herself in the deep going.

Mrs. Raymond Barbin's brown gelding, War Fever, wound up reserve after collecting numerous ribbons for his points.

Also from the Barbin string came Baby Seal to capture the working hunter award. Straight from her Chagrin Valley Hunt Horse Show success the previous week-end, the bay mare continued her winning streak with top rounds, winding up champion ahead of Miss Eve Prime's Eve's Star.

Owner-ridden, Eve's Star went like clockwork and with several really nice wins, such as blues in the qualified class, working stake and a string of other ribbons a yard long, she was pinned reserve grand champion to Portmaker.

Crispin Oglebay came all the way from Gates Mills, Ohio, to see his chestnut colt by *Blenheim II win the yearling class. This lovely animal is destined for the race track and will not continue to show.

Martin Vogel, Jr.'s brown colt, Bartigon, by Yellow Tullip, won the Virginia Horsemen's High Score Award for 2-year-olds and is now leading for the finals.

In the V. H. S. A. equitation division, there has been an all out battle in the last few weeks between Miss Nancy Lee Huffman and Jimmie Hatcher (all in fun, of course!). Jimmie won this heat and Nancy Lee was 3rd behind Miss Cynthia Robinson. Both kids are showing wonderful sportsmanship and the outcome should be of interest to all when the trophy is presented at the annual fall meeting of the Virginia Horse Shows Association.

Two days of Farmington drew to a close in the twilight Sunday evening after fitful showers had succeeded in thoroughly drenching everyone. Regardless of the rain, the show was a great success and the committee did a good job of running it off to the liking of both exhibitors and spectators.

Dunham Woods Horse Show

Children's Classes Feature First Day of Show; Fred Farwell Equitation Champion; Confidence Outstanding In Hunter Classes

Louise B. Coffin

One day of good weather and one day of bad certainly did not dampen the ardor of exhibitors and spectators at the 15th annual Dunham Woods Horse Show at Wayne, Illinois, Saturday and Sunday, September 10 and 11.

Saturday was devoted entirely to children's classes, with a variety of horsemanship, jumping classes and games to keep children and parents scurrying every minute. Fred Farwell, of Geneva, Ill., was declared the victor in the equitation championship class over Cindy Kelly of Lake Forest. Fred has come a long way and is now doing a great job of riding. Cindy Kelly, the reserve champion, and her grey, Epanaw, put on such a smooth performance that it was a treat to watch.

The junior contingent were all given a chance to take their places in the ring beside equitation and hunter judges Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Charles B. Lyman of Pocompso, Pa., during the varied classes of the 2-day show, to learn the why and whereof of the placings in the classes. The judges really worked the children and they all, in turn, received a big thrill out of sub-junior judging the classes and discussing their agreements and disagreements with the judges, side by side.

Susie Lucenti's brown, blaze faced Confidence appeared the outstanding horse of Sunday's classes by garnering the lightweight, the qualified and the hunter hack, all in his stride, with Owner-rider Susie giving a most consistently good ride throughout. This nice going Thoroughbred was purchased from W. Haggin Perry, in Virginia.

The most unusual and interesting classes of the day (and exceptionally well filled) were the useful country horse, to be ridden and driven, and the Sunday morning driving class. Both classes produced an amazing assortment of carts and buggies, with different types of horses and ponies attached. Alicia Magnuson rode and drove her little bay pony Champie to a good win in the useful country horse, while Mr. and Mrs. Don Merrill won the Sunday morning drive, in a most suitable manner, with their team of horses, The General and Highland Jimmie.

A huge amount of excitement was created when Miss Grace Merrill's Big City, a palomino shied at a buzz on the loudspeaker and took off around the ring on the dead run. The cart whacked the end of the ring in a sickening manner and cart and Miss Merrill catapulted through the fence taking four fence posts with them, leaving Big City to roar on alone around the ring with harness and reins flying. Everyone pulled to the centre of the ring and stood stock still until Big City was captured. Miss Merrill emerged from the wreckage miraculously unscathed, ed, spectators took a deep breath and the class proceeded...all in a day at a Horse Show.

A most fitting exhibition for the Dunham Woods show were the six beautiful prize winning percheron mares, stallions and colts that Mr. Paul Engler of Palatine, Ill., exhibited during the show. These percherons are of the same lineage as the ones that used to claim Dunham's as their home when Dunham Woods was known as one of the biggest and best percheron breeding establishments in the country.

The pair class and hunt teams, to wind up the day, brought forth all good performances. Tamerlane and Meadowplay, with Ann Evans and Donald Robb aboard, put in a neat win in the pairs. The three greys over the outside course, Johnny Bear, Embudo and Meshera with owners Mrs. Hamill, Ted Mohlman and Alix Wilde atop, presented a lovely picture to take the hunt team trophy.

Bethlehem Horse Show Attracts Many Kinds Of Horses and Ponies

Jane Pollack

A good part of northwestern Connecticut turned out at the Fair Grounds site on Sunday, August 28 for the Bethlehem Horse Show. In all other parts of the state it was said to be mighty warm, but for once everyone on the grounds was commenting that this was the coolest place he could think of to be at that time. This seldom-heard bit of whimsy was well-founded, because the ring and course were serenely situated atop a huge, grassy hill in the mountains and the breeze kept the warm air moving on its way before it had a chance to fray the nerves. The atmosphere held a hint of the impending Fair, due to take place there in two weeks. Popcorn, icecream, colorful hats, vendors, and a multitude of youngsters dotted the grass at frequent intervals, not to mention a good-sized collection of ponies.

So the 11th Annual Show ran smoothly under cloudy but kindly, discreet skies. Miss Carol Gardner took the first blue ribbon of the day in novice horsemanship, then took her mount, Skylark, outside to capture the junior hunter event. Skylark became hunter champion and to prove that he has manners plus a real jump, he carried Clifton B. (Nick) Austin, Jr. to victory in the A. S. P. C. A. Maclay event.

Various classes in the Western and Saddle horse divisions, several for hacks, and one for the ponies provided the spectators with a great demonstration of what may be found in the horse world. And speaking of variety, an authentic Sicilian Donkey stood sleepy-eyed outside the ring between the shafts of a cart, which came straight from below the Italian toe. Another one of the little critters even carried a girl twice his size in a class and never blinked an eyelash!

Nicky Tully Wins Children's Jumping At Flemington Fair

Cardell

Major Tom N. Tully, well known director and instructor of Watchung Stables, Summit, N. J., believes all good instructors begin their work at home and judging by the way his little 8-year-old daughter, Nicky Tully, showed her jumping ability proves him to be right. Spectators were thrilled when the pint-sized horsewoman won the children's jumping event easily, against 11 other young riders at the annual Flemington Fair horse show, Sept. 3. It was indeed enjoyable to watch her boot her brown mare, Annie Laurie, over the rails with only 2 faults in 3 trips over the 8 jumps which included 2 jump-offs.

Young Lorrimer Armstrong, Jr. took the jumping seat horsemanship class for junior members of the A. H. S. A. riding his bay mare, Martial Maid. This good mare annexed the tri-color in the working hunter division.

Miss Marjorie Braverman and her brown mare Lucky Lady gave a beautiful round over the outside course with various obstacles that stumped many of the entries and the spectators were well in accord with the judges' decision to give her the blue ribbon in the $100 working hunter stake.

Robert F. (Bobby) Magnus, Jr., competing against 10 other good riders, won the A. S. P. C. A. horsemanship event and qualified to compete in the National Horse Show this fall.

Futurity To Greentree Stable's Guillotine;
Mrs. D. Howe's Donor Takes New York 'Cap;
Loser Weeper Wins the Vosburgh 'Cap

Joe H. Palmer

It was something of a coincidence that the three stables which split up the E. R. Bradley estate should each have got a Futurity starter out of it in the same year. This will not show in the records, because the three-year-olds are all, officially, bred by their present owners. Actually they got the mares in foal, in the late months of 1946, and are listed as the breeders because The Jockey Club's rule provides that the owner of the mare at the time of foaling is officially the breeder. This rule may not be entirely good, but it is better than the one which obtained until about a dozen years ago, under which the person who registered the foal (this would normally be in October, when the foal was from five to ten months old) was the breeder.

In the division of the Bradley mares Greentree got Blade of Time, in foal to Bimelech; Ogden Phipps got Baby League, in foal to War Admiral; and King Ranch got Bee Mac, in foal to Bull Lea. These foals were, respectively, Guillotine, Striking, and Beau Max, which finished 1st, 4th, and 9th in the Futurity.

Blade of Time had previously produced Bymeabond and Blue Border, the latter freshly winner of the Hopeful at the time of the division. Baby League had produced Busher, which had already become the world's leading money-winning filly, an honor she has since lost. Bee Mac, the top 2-year-old of her year, had produced Better Self, though at that stage he was a yearling, with his reputation unmade.

Now Guillotine has the Futurity. Striking, though she seems not quite able to last, was prominent at Saratoga, winning the Schuylerville Stakes there. Beau Max was rated third among the King Ranch 2-year-olds, behind Air Lift and Middle-ground, and though he has only an overnight race to date, he ran Middle-ground to 3/4 of a length in the spring, and is still considered of stakes class.

All of this makes you wonder why anyone who is not actually hungry will sell a broodmare which has produced a good horse.

The running of the Futurity was extremely simple. Guillotine and Theory, which had beaten him a length on Monday, jumped off in front together and there they stayed. Guillotine had the speed to pull out a length and a half in front, and there he stayed. That was all, except for the $87,585.

The New York Handicap proved, I think, that Mrs. Deering Howe's Donor is the best handicapper of the year over a distance. There seems no reason to believe that he could come close to matching Coaltown's speed at Coaltown's distance, but aside from that I can't see anything that can handle him. He stayed pretty well back until the field had gone a mile and a half, and then Mehrtens started him up and he pulled away.

Stymie missed in the handicap, which he won in 1946 under 128 pounds, but he did better than in 1947, when he was out of the money. He caught his first horse about five furlongs out—or rather the horse came back to him—but on the stretch turn he mounted something like his oldtime run. He hung before he could get to Donor, and missed by three and a half lengths, but at least he got $5,000, which is his best score so far this year. He walked here Saturday night and Jacobs will let up on him until the nature of his lameness can be determined.

Loser Weeper won his fourth stakes of the year in the Vosburgh, coming from his customary absolute last. He paid something for his victory, though, since his ankle filled that night, and he had to miss his Saturday engagement in the All American Handicap at Atlantic City. He has done his share to give the Alfred Vanderbilt stable its best year since the days of Discovery and Identify, though the brightest single victory was that of Bed o' Roses in the Matron. She tried again in the futurity, but she was no match for the colts, finishing 11th. In this connection, Eric Guerin had his judgement vindicated, though it did him little good. The stable also started First Glance, which had only a maiden victory to his credit, and Guerin chose him in place of the Matron winner. He finished 8th, three places ahead of the filly, but he was fairly prominent early.

Steve Brooks, for that matter, picked the right horse too. He took Theory, which had never won a stakes, over Re-Armed, a stakes winning brother to Armed. Brooks got 2nd, while Re-Armed, with Ovie Scurlock up, finished 6th.

The week started all Brooks, and ended all Atkinson. On the Monday, Brooks rode four winners, including Ponder in the Lawrence Realization. After that his luck ran out, and he had only one winner the rest of the week.

Atkinson, who was blanked on Monday, got doubles on Tuesday and Continued on Page 11

NATCHEZ, winner of $166,845, won the Kent Stakes, 1-1/16 ml., and equalled the track record; Edward Burke Handicap, making the fastest time the 1-1/16 had been run in Md.; the Travers, Harford and Havre de Grace Handicap. His race for the Empire Gold Cup in 1948 will never be forgotten by those who saw him turn back a challenge from Assault and lose to Stymie by 4 lengths after winging ahead of the Gold Cup field for one mile and a quarter.

NATCHEZ is a 6-year-old son of JAMESTOWN and the crack stakes mare Creole Maid. With FAIR PLAY in both his top and bottom lines and stemming from DARK RONALD, the sire of SON-IN-LAW, his pedigree is indeed a classic one to get stakes horses on the flat and over jumps.

CREOLE MAID, by *PHARAMOND II win the Coaching Club American Oaks, the Schuylerville Stakes, the Adirondack Handicap. She is half-sister to the top cup winner Firethorn and out of the Man O'War mare Baton Rouge.

Trough Hill Wins The Brook 'Chase

Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr.'s Good 'Chaser
Repeats Last Year's Victory Under
Canny Ride From Jockey Martin Molony

Spectator

A Virginia-bred horse and an Irish rider combined to make a brilliant victory in The Brook Steeplechase Handicap on Sept. 29. Mrs. Stephen C. Clark, Jr.'s Trough Hill, repeated his victory of last year, carried 11 lbs. more this time, and won by 10 lengths with Martin Molony, his rider taking no chances and riding him out to the wire. Trainer Jack Skinner, who saddled Trough Hill, also had the 2nd horse, Rokeby Stables' American Way, which lasted to take the place by 1/2 a length from His Boots. Another 9 lengths back, Adaptable finished 4th, and, although well beaten, ran and jumped in much better fashion than his previous outings this fall.

Eight starters went postward in The Brook, and they were sent off almost immediately to a good start. First to show in front was Elkridge, with Sun Bath taking over the lead before the field had gone a sixteenth. For more than a turn of the field, Sun Bath made the pace, with Elkridge running second, and in a manner that looked like championship stuff. American Way, Rapier, His Boots, Trough Hill, Hampton Roads and Adaptable completed the field in that order, all pretty well bunched. Going down the front side the first time, Sun Bath made a minor bobble at the water, but His Boots made a more serious mistake and dropped his hind legs in. Around the clubhouse turn and into the far side the last time, Sun Bath was still in front setting a moderate pace, and Elkridge second until about the second jump on the far side, and then for no discernible reason, Kent Miller's veteran dropped out of it entirely, moving from second to the almost last position in less time than it takes to tell. While this was happening both American Way and Trough Hill began gaining on Sun Bath. Rapier fell at the 12th jump, and Hampton Roads began his move which carried him almost to the leaders, and then dropped back as American Way got to the lead going to the next jump. Around the turn American Way had better than daylight over Sun Bath with Trough Hill another length or two away. Coming into the stretch Trough Hill had moved up to take the lead from his stablemate, while Sun Bath was dropping back, and His Boots coming on. Down the stretch Trough Hill and American Way fought it out with Trough Hill gaining a clear advantage before the last jump. Taking this in his stride, Molony kept riding him right to the end, while American Way, under Tommy Field just lasted to stave off a powerful run by His Boots. Adaptable, Hampton Roads and Sun Bath completed the finish in that order, while Elkridge just galloped across the wire when the others had started to pull up.

After the race there were many who asked about Elkridge. His performance was startling on two counts,—his improvement over his last outing—for as far as he went, and—what made him stop. This writer can offer no good reason for either. On the other hand, Sun Bath, fresh off a good win in the Broad Hollow appeared just a trifle sore going to the post, which may have accounted for his performance. None of these things of course took away from Trough

Hill's victory, and the manner in which Martin Molony rode him. Molony has visited this country several times before and has been up on winners at the Rolling Rock meeting, but until this season, he had never been in the field at a major track. He rode a canny race on Trough Hill, saving ground all the way, and made the most of his opportunities.

The Brook was Trough Hill's second victory out of six starts this year, and if he can duplicate this next week, he will be the horse to beat in the National. The time for the 2 1/2 miles was 4:52-1/5, over a slow track, just about 13 seconds off the record. Trough Hill, in common with most Tourists, ordinarily does not show to advantage over a soft track, but this definitely wasn't the case in the Brook.

On the preceding Monday, Sept. 26, Trainer Arthur White sent out Harry La Montagne's Lark Day for his second win at this meeting, and while his jumping left quite a bit to be desired, he had to be by far the best horse in the race, for he made a bad one at the water jump, dropping in behind, and apparently out of it from that point. He was running third at the time with Hot and Lock and Key in front of him, gradually made up ground down the far side, and then got the lead at the last fence to win under a drive by 1 1/4 lengths. Lock and Key ran closest to the pace all the way, took the lead at the fence on the last turn when Hot bobbled his rider off, and held it until approaching the last jump where she was collared by Lark Day, and then just lasted to get a neck decision for the place from Polichinela II, which closed a world of ground in the final stages. Until McDonald came off he looked like he was running a winning race, but the pace from there to the wire was a fast one, and it is doubtful that he could have withstood Lark Day.

The Rouge Dragon Handicap, a 2-mile hurdle race on Tuesday brought out as nice a field as has been seen all year, and resulted in a mild upset when Harry Harris drove across the wire first with Mrs. R. P. Kirkpatrick's New Rule. In the early stages of the race, Pegasus II, coupled in the betting with Le Buis Fleuri, set a fast pace with the remainder of the field all closely bunched. Midway around, he surrendered the lead to Oedipus, but this was short lived for going around the last turn, his stablemate, Skyscraper came through on the inside and held a slight advantage all the way, with Persepolis, H Hour, Le Buis Fleuri and Oedipus heads apart. Straightening out in the stretch, Persepolis and Le Buis Fleuri were squeezed back, while H Hour and Skyscraper drew out slightly. At this point, Harris came in between horses to capture the lead going to the last fence. Over this and then across the Widener chute, three horses ran as a team, but Skyscraper stumbled slightly at this point, and then was not good enough from there to the wire, being beaten by a length, while another 2 1/2 lengths back, Le Buis Fleuri got up for 3rd with H Hour 4th a half a length back. New Rule's time for the 2 miles was 3:47-4/5, over a fast track, and this was his 3rd victory of the year for his owner, trainer, and breeder, Mrs. R. P. Kirkpatrick.

The following day, another Virginia-owned horse took down first place, this was Mrs. J. P. McCormick's Black Fox Run, which carried 151 lbs., gave away chunks to every other starter, and still was good enough to win by 3 lengths, with Tourist Index another length in front of Little Sammie.

To keep the record clean for the week, another Virginia-owned horse won on Friday. Montpelier's North Branch, in the money in most of her previous starts, broke her maiden in The Speculate, by crossing the wire 1 1/2 lengths to the good of Silver Bridge, a first time starter over hurdles from the stable of Dimitri Djordjadze. Foot had the winning leg up, and he had to survive a claim of foul from Maletto on Silver Bridge, who claimed that the Montpelier ally

LEADING 'CHASE SIRE

SIRE OF SUN BATH,
Leading Steeplechaser of 1949
in America.

*EASTON IS THE sire of stakes winners on four continents. The ability of his produce to win top races under all racing conditions shows his ability as a sire—while at the same time the scattering of his good ones keeps him lower on national stallion lists. Last year *Easton was the sire of one of the better French 2-year-olds in Le Texas, the previous year of Peace Harbor, prominent American 2-year-old stakes winner. Earlier there were Red Shoes (also a ranking 3-year-old filly), and many English Stakes winners. *Easton is the sire of Silver Phantom, best handicap horse of his day in South Africa, Kinkajou, ranking stakes winner in India, of Wildlife, winner of the Shevlin and Dwyer Stakes, and other stakes winners. *Easton is the sire of Sun Bath, leading steeplechaser of 1949 in America. He is the sire of 5 Two-year-Old winners this year in America.

This continuous production of stakes performers—whether in America, England, France, India or South Africa—shows that *Easton is a sire with a solid pedigree and a performance record indicative of his qualities.

As a race horse *Easton won in France, England, and Belgium. He was regarded as one of the top few of his crop. He won at 2, 3, and 4.

Farm to Farm

WESTMORELAND

In southwestern Pennsylvania not too far from Pittsburgh there is a surprisingly large number of people who are interested in horses. So much so that there are some half dozen stallions standing in that area. Among these stallions is the 23-year-old Rathbeale, by Madrigalian—Regular by Bryn Mawr who belies his age by 10 years. A little brown horse, under 16.0 hands, that W. B. "Bill" Watkins owns and stood for many years near Boyce, Virginia, before sending him to E. C. Bothwell's Westmoreland Farm in Greensburg, Penna. In Virginia his get bring a premium because they have proven to be excellent jumpers and grand hunting horses. For all of his years, he still looks strong and healthy and doesn't have the away back that so many horses get at his age. He is a big-boned little horse with plenty of conformation and quality which he transmits to his offspring.

Mr. Bothwell uses him on 8 or 10 mares a year, some of his own and some of his neighbors. However, anyone with a good mare can get a service to him if they are so inclined. His fee is by private contract. Mr. Bothwell has had a great deal of success with Anglo-Cleavelands as hunters and has tried breeding Anglo-Cleveland mares to Thoroughbred stallions as well as Cleveland bay stallions to Thoroughbred mares. He prefers the Thoroughbred stallion cross and has a 4-year-old filly named Judith which is bred this way. Judith is by *Rufigi, out of an Anglo-Cleveland mare, and has won a number of classes at the local shows. At the present, the stud groom, Jack MacDonald, is getting her ready for the Harrisburg show. Duchess, one of Mr. Bothwell's good broodmares, won a broodmare class at Devon this year. She has a foal at foot by Star Timber. Mr. Bothwell also has a 3-year-old filly by Koodoo which is pretty nice. Three broodmares, 5 yearlings and 3 foals comprise the rest of the horse department at Westmoreland.

CLIFTON FLAG

If anyone is interested in breeding top quality polo ponies they should take a look at Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Taylor's Clifton Flag. This horse is as nimble as a deer. While cavorting in his paddock, he will rush toward the fence, drop his quarters and make two big elevens (11) with his hind feet when coming to a stop. He will drop that hind leg as though schooled for years, and pivot either way with the same handiness. Truly a most graceful horse in action. He is a bay, 1944, by Flag Pole—Clifton's Jane, by *Coq Gaulois and stands at Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's farm in Greensburg, Penna. He isn't too big, about 15.3 and nicely put together. Along with his other qualifications, he inherits two prominent jumping strains, that from Fair Play and *Coq Gaulois the blood of the last should not be overlooked by those that are seeking a good hunter or a prospect to run through the field.

ROLLING ROCK

There were pool dinners held at the Rolling Rock Club, Ligonier, Pa., on Tuesday and Friday nights, September 27 and 30. The horses that were to race on the following days were auctioned off by Humphrey S. Finney of Towson, Md., and he did an excellent job of making people part with their money for the hospital. By and large the bidding was spirited and all concerned had a lot of fun. The total pool was twice as high for Saturday's races as it was for Wednesday's, the bidders being a little more in the mood and was the best pool on record at Rolling Rock. The highest prices were paid for horses in the Western Pennsylvania Hunt Cup, which is a race of about 3 1-2 miles over the timber course, and the International Gold Cup, a race of about 2 1-2 miles over the brush course. In the timber race there were 7 horses auctioned off for a total of $10,350 with the high of $2,200 being bid for the favorite, *Done Sleeping. This was closely followed by a $2,100 bid for Invulnerable and a $2,000 bid for Pine Pep, winner of this year's Maryland. *Done Sleeping won the race by about 20 lengths going away. A remarkable race with the best timber horses in the country in it. In the International Gold Cup, horses finishing 1st, 2nd or 3rd, if 5 years old or older, are qualified to compete in the 1950 running of the Grand National Steplechase, Aintree, England. There were 13 horses in this pool, with R. K. Mellon's *Replica II getting the high bid of $2,500. Mrs. C. E. Adams, grand old campaigner Refugio, drew the second highest bid of $1,775 and was 2nd in the race. In the 1947 Grand National, Refugio finished 7th out of 57 starters, only 17 of which finished the race. Mrs. John Strawbridge, Jr.'s Hada Bar and Mrs. Sara B. Merryman's Falchion each drew bid of $1,000. Mrs. E. M. Forbes, the high bidder on Falchion hit the jackpot when Falchion caught Refugio at the last fence and came home a winner. There was a total of $13,150 in this pool.

HEARD AT ROLLING ROCK

Judy Johnson has purchased, from the King Ranch, a 2-year-old (Syracuse Lad, by Brazado) which is nearly as big as Floating Isle. He has worked 3-4s in 13, which pleased Judy no end.

Mrs. Simon T. Patterson of Pittsburgh, Penna., purchased Elmont (b. g., 4, by Rosemont—Elfectra) from Ed Johnson's Golden Acres Stud. Elmont won the Laughlinton, about 2 miles over hurdles on Wednesday at Rolling Rock and finished 4th in the Donegal, about 2 miles over hurdles which was run on Saturday.

Sherwood C. Martin of Greensburg, Pa., purchased *Mr. Man, a b. g., 10, by Mr. Toots—Belladonna, from Arthur McCashin. Sidney Waters, Jr. will be the trainer. *Mr. Man won the flat race on Saturday at Rolling Rock and as long as he keeps his winning ways he may continue at the hunt meets. If not he will become familiar with Westmoreland hunting country. Mr. Martin is joint-master of the Westmoreland Hunt. This nomad had the good fortune of having Sherwood accompany him or should say chauffeur him around to some of the farms in the Greensburg area and to see the Kennels. They have (as near as I could count stens as they milled about) 15 couple of American Foxhounds. The country in which they drag hunt is about 10 miles square, a good farming district which is hilly and has ample woodlands. The fences are principally post and rail with some board fencing and paneling in the wire fencing. The hunt goes out twice a week with bye days. According to Sherwood's father, A. C. Martin, they really have good hunting.

Friday, and a single on Thursday, and then climaxed the week on Saturday with a quadruple of his own, of course including the Futurity, to give him a total of nine for the six days.

Belmont was not, perhaps, fortunate in its dates this year. Through the second week the town was not entirely conscious of anything except baseball, and the last week is likely to have World Series trouble. I think there would have been no loud sobbing here if the series were played out west.

*RHODES SCHOLAR

Sire of Black Tarquin—England's Leading
3-Year-Old in '48

Every name in *Rhodes Scholar's first two generations produced a St. Leger Winner.

*RHODES SCHOLAR has shown his classic breeding many times. He defeated *MAHMOUD by 5 lengths in the St. James Palace Stakes. He won England's top 1 1/4 mile race, the Eclipse Stakes and won the Ribblesdale Stakes, one mile, carrying 138 pounds. He was one of England's outstanding 3-year-olds.

AT STUD the son of PHAROS, leading sire in England and in France, produced Black Tarquin, winner of the St. Leger and top weight on the English 3-year-old Free Handicap; Scholarship, Post Graduate, Sir Edward, Alworth, Rhodesia and a high proportion of winners.

BOOK LAW, the dam of *Rhodes Scholar, won the St. Leger and 31,875 pounds. She produced top stakes winners and in tail female descendants to Dark Ronald, sire of the great Son-In-Law, who is one of the most potent influences in English racing and whose blood has been preponderant influences to get jumpers as well as flat horses in both this country and abroad.

*Easton Now Leading 'Chasing Sire

Sun Bath's Victory In Broad Hollow 'Chase Puts His Sire Into Top Spot As Progenitor Of Winners Through the Field In 1949

Frank Talmadge Phelps

Sun Bath's victory in the Broad Hollow Steeplechase Handicap on September 22 moved his sire *Easton into the top spot as a progenitor of steeplechase winners in 1949. The purse of $7,700 raised the total earned by *Easton's get this season to $32,590 and placed him ahead of Mate on the list of sires of jumpers.

*Easton was already the leader so far as number of victories was concerned; and the new triumph brought his total to 8. Sun Bath has accounted for half that number; and Lock and Key has won 2 races. The other two triumphs were gained over the hurdles by Easter Vigil and Enon.

In contrast to Mate, whose reputation as a sire depends almost entirely on one performer (Elkridge), *Easton has sired a number of able horses. His stakes-winning jumpers, however, have been only two: Sun Bath and Lock and Key.

Sun Bath is the older and better 'chaser. Foaled March 16, 1942, he was a member of his sire's first American crop. He was bred by F. Wallis Armstrong's Meadowview Farm, near Moorestown, N. J., where *Easton stands. Sun Bath's dam is Sun Fritters, by *Sun Briar—*Fritters, by Friar Marcus.

The son of *Easton is owned and trained by R. W. Grant. He did not race until his 4th year, when he placed once in 4 starts for a total return of $600.

The following season brought a marked improvement, as the Grant gelding was out of the money only four times in his 14 starts and earned $24,545. He first attracted notice when he carried 148 pounds and defeated Danny Deaver in the Woodbine Autumn Steeplechase Handicap. At Laurel a month later he placed behind Trough Hill in the Butler and in the Governor Ogle back of Genanoke, which equaled the track record of 3:50 2-5 for about 2 miles. The next week Sun Bath bested Elkridge and Trough Hill in the Chevy Chase, and himself set a new mark of 4:54 2-5 for about 2 1-2 miles.

Last year the son of *Easton was none too consistent and received $16,900 for his 14 outings. His chief success came in the Hitchcock, when he bested American Way, the top jumper of the season. He fell at the last fence in the Shillelah, which only Elkridge managed to complete without incident; but was remounted in time to hold down 2nd money. The bearer of Mr. Grant's blue silks with the chocolate stripes, shoulder straps and cuffs, showed in the Harbor Hill and Woodbine contests. After almost taking a tumble at the 14th obstacle of the Chevy Chase, he recovered and finished next to American Way.

This year, at 7, Sun Bath has been at his peak, and may be the best 'chaser in action during the season. Out of the money 3 times in 11 efforts to date, he has shown great steadiness despite his tendency to run in front. He lost the Georgetown to Elkridge and Genanoke, and the Indian River to Elkridge. But, when the latter did not put in an appearance at Saratoga, the son of *Easton had the spa 'chasing almost to himself.

First came his North American victory, accomplished with ease in the commendable time of 4:12 1-5 for about 2 miles. The off track for the Beverwyck failed to faze Sun Bath as he spread-eagled his field. Shouldering 149 pounds for the Saratoga, he set a new record of 5:06 3-5 for about 2 1-2 miles, although there was not a horse within 40 lengths as he passed the wire. His Broad Hollow victory was accomplished under the same weight.

*Easton's other well-known jumper is Crispin Oglebay's home-bred mare Lock and Key, out of Level Head, by *Sir Gallahad III—Dust-sweep, full sister to the great producer Panoramic. Lock and Key was foaled May 4, 1944, in Kentucky. She won 2 of her 3 starts and $3,500 at 2; one race and $3,050 in 15 starts at 3.

She blossomed forth last year, at 4, with earnings of $25,300 in 14 efforts. Possibly her best race was the Delaware National Maiden Hurdle Stakes, in which she carried 143 pounds to an easy 7-length victory over Rank while setting a new record of 3:05 1-5, two full seconds under the previous mark for about 1 3-4 miles. On a slow course for the Saratoga National Maiden Hurdle she romped off with a 50-length decision. Using her customary front-running tactics in the Bushwick Hurdle Handicap at Aqueduct, she barely outlasted Mahlima but covered the about 2-mile course in 3:39 2-5 to clip a full second from the previous time standard. She also showed in the Bushranger, which H Hour took.

This season Lock and Key has been converted from the hurdles to the fences. She attempted to tote 156 pounds in the Belmont Spring Maiden Steeplechase, but a pair of bobbles cost her the race, although she gained 2nd honors by 20 lengths. Since then she has experienced some difficulty in keeping her feet.

*Easton, like Mate, made his racing reputation on the flat. During his active career the son of Dark Legend—*Phaona, by phalaris, performed in France, Belgium and England. At 2 he won the Prix de la Reine Mathilde.

The following season he took the Grand International d'Oseende, Prix Ladas and Select Stakes. He also placed in the Epsom Derby and 2,000 Guineas; and showed in the Grand Prix de Paris.

As a 4-year-old *Easton captured the March, Lingfield Park Spring and Ribblesdale Stakes; and finished 2nd to the Derby victor Windsor Lad in the fastest Coronation Cup ever timed. Those were his only starts during his final year on the track. His earnings totaled 39,140 French francs, 600,000 Belgian francs and £3,369 in England.

Before his importation *Easton sired stakes winners on the flat in England, India and South Africa; and the dams of stakes victors in England and France. He has gotten such American performers as the 1945 Dwyer and Shevlin Stakes winner Wildlife; Red Shoes, victor in the Schuylerville and Test Stakes, and Pimlico Oaks; Peace Harbor, which took the 1946 New Jersey Futurity; and Calvados, which captured the Commonwealth Handicap last season.

Despite these successes on the flat, *Easton derives his ability as a sire of jumpers quite naturally from his ancestry. He is a grandson of Dark Ronald, sire of Son-in-Law, whose influence upon 'chasing pedigrees has been pronounced.

Son-in-Law's son *Tourist II is the sire of Trough Hill, winner of the Pimlico Spring Maiden, Butler, Glendale, Brook (twice) and Corinthian Steeplechase Handicaps; Tourist List, victor in the Shillelah, Temple Gwathmey, Saratoga and Harbor Hill events; Timber Tourist, which took last year's Good Companions 'Chase at Woodbine; and Gadabout who captured the 1946 Governor Agle.

Son-in-Law also got *Ambassador IV, maternal grandsire of Mate. *Ambassador IV's son St. James, in turn, is the maternal grandsire of Amphitheatre, sire of the hurdler Chariteer. Sailor Beware, which triumphed in the 1937 North American and Grand National, is a son of St. James. So is Jamestown, sire of Fleetown, which has annexed the Pimlico Spring Maiden, International (twice) and Corinthian contests.

Jamestown's son Johnstown is the sire of the hurdler Tough. It is interesting to note that Lock and Key and Johnstown present similar pedigree patterns, while Amphitheatre offers the reverse. Lock and Key is by *Easton—Level Head, by *Sir Gallahad III; Johnstown is a son of Jamestown—La France, also a *Sir Gallahad III mare. Amphitheatre, on the other hand, is by *Sir Gallahad III—Arena, by St. James.

Foxlaw, another son of Son-in-Law, is the sire of *Deanslaw, which acquired the Georgetown and Indian River 'Caps. Bosworth, by Son-in-Law, is best known as the sire of *Boswell; but he is also the grandsire of the last year's Forget Hurdle Handicap winner *Britannicus III.

The latter, out of a granddaughter of Gainsborough, represents a doubling of the blood of Bay Ronald, grandsire of both Dark Legend and Gainsborough. The reverse of a very similar pattern can be seen in the pedigree of *Persepolis, victor in the Bushwick Hurdle 'Cap. *Persepolis, which took the Pimlico Spring Maiden back in 1946, is by Gainsborough's grandson Pastur—Lavin—Continued on Page 13

ia, by Bosworth. Royal Pauline, dam of *Kospal, is also a granddaughter of Gainsborough.

In addition to the Son-in-Law branch, Dark Ronald exercised his influence on jumping pedigrees through his son *Herodot, grandsire of Arch Hero, which captured the 1941 Corinthian Steeplechase Handicap. Arch Hero's sire, Dark Hero, is, like Sun Bath, from a *Sun Briar mare. Moreover, Dark Ronald is the sire of *Breathing Spell, grandam of Galactic. *Breathing Spell is also the dam of Busy American, and the second dam of Gallahadion and Big Dial.

Although the Bay Ronald branch of the Hampton line has been the most productive of 'chasers, the branch through Ayrshire, Robert le Diable and *Wrack has also exerted some influence. Torturer, by *Wrack, triumphed in the 1938 Indian River and Temple Gwathmey
Memorial; and Petee-Wrack sired
Brother Jones, which annexed the Chevy Chase of 1942.

*Easton's son *Rufugi is on the current season's list of 'chasing sires
as the sire of the hurdlers Deferment and Pillsburg. *Rufugi, a half-brother to *Blenheim II, stands at
Richard K. Mellon's Rolling Rock
Farms near Ligonier, Penn.

In following weeks more information on the leading sires of winners over the jumps will be presented in these columns.

International Gold Cup To Falchion

Two Very Successful Days of Hunt Racing Held At Rolling Rock; *Done Sleeping Wins Western Pennsylvania Hunt Cup

Rolling Rock Hunt's first day for its fall meeting was on Wednesday, Sept. 28 and if anyone could have predicted the weather, he would have been much too busy to watch the races. As people began to arrive for the first race, the sun had completely disappeared and the surrounding mountains were completely shrouded with black clouds. Then came the rain. One rider casually remarked at the end of the afternoon that it had been a wonderful day's racing but not to say that, in spite of the downpour, nobody's spirits were dampened.

The entries were truly amazing as there were few cross-entries and a pencil wasn't needed too much to mark the scratches. Wednesday at Rolling Rock is the day for the novice timber horses and 9 of them went postward to be sent off at a good clip by Starter A. H. Plumb. R. K. Mellon's big bay gelding, No Wings, which had left the life of the show rings and after spending the past winter in Camden, S. C., again visited a few rings, only to be put on the list as a good timber prospect, was sent to the top immediately by Mr. Grover Stephens. Mrs. Thoburn Smith's Gold Bud, Owner-rider Mr. D. Brewster on Second Mate, W. H. Miller's Jack Lee, G. W. Cutting's former point-to-pointer Killay, Miss Evelyn Thompson's Ecneec, Mrs. Henry Obre's Athanael, David D. Odell's Tahltan and John Strawbridge's Sutton Hoo followed in close pursuit.

Over the 3rd jump in front of the grandstand, Jockey E. Phelps had about 1 1/2 lengths' advantage over Jockey R. Utterback on Killay with No Wings running 3rd. Over the 4th No Wings moved ahead of Killay with Gold Bud still staying slightly in front. The course now lay downhill and over the 5th and then slightly left-handed and toward the 6th which is on the backside of the course. Gold Bud, No Wings and Second Mate headed the field over this one but at the 7th, the order changed as Second Mate took over the pace and Mr. C. V. B. Cushman, Jr. moved Tahltan into 2nd position ahead of Killay. Back at their 1st jump which was now the 8th, the field was moving right along toward the turn and then the 9th. Speeding up a bit coming into the 9th made a few of the horses put in some rough jumping for their riders but they were over safely and then the 10th and 11th jumps were behind them. After the 11th, Mr. E. H. Bennett pulled up Ecneec as he had tired badly and had been trailing the field.

Again downhill with No Wings holding the pace setting job again, Killay was still going well and holding down the 2nd position ahead of Second Mate, followed by Athanael, Tahltan, Gold Bud, Sutton Hoo, Jack Lee and Ecneec which was pulled up.

The horses were tincanning toward and over the 13th and as the field disappeared behind the trees, Second Mate had gone to the front but at the 14th, No Wings had again assumed the lead with Second Mate 2nd and Killay 3rd. Trouble started at the 15th when Athanael and Mr. M. Smithwick went down and Killay bumped into another horse and lost her rider. Trainer-rider Mr. J. C. Arthur had sent Sutton Hoo to the front and Jockey E. Phelps was in 2nd position on Gold Bud with No Wings 3rd and Second Mate 4th and Jack Lee 5th.

Winging toward the turn and then slightly left-handed for the 16th and last, Mr. Arthur held his position and even though Gold Bud closed a few lengths in the stretch drive, Sutton Hoo galloped across the finish line with Gold Bud 2nd and Jack Lee 3rd as Jockey T. Thomas had passed tired horses in the latter stages to gain this position. Sutton Hoo not only won a good race but is the 1st winner which Trainer J. C. Arthur has saddled.

Distinguishing racing colors in the paddock is one job but get 12 horses at the post on the far side of the course, top this off with a pouring rain and it makes one wonder why he brought along his heavy field glasses because nothing helps in a case like this. R. K. Mellon's blue and scarlet colors made the job somewhat easier and as the horses left the starter in The Rector, the 1st race on the card, his Induction broke on top with L. F. Voegeli's Rim Wrack next.

Induction's lead was short-lived, however, as Mr. C. V. B. Cushman sent H. W. Anderson's Whippernock ahead and as they came over the 2nd hurdle and by the grandstands, Whippernock was setting a fast pace in front of Rim Wrack. Over the 3rd and downhill to the 4th, it was still Whippernock with Jockey M. Ferral in 2nd position on Mrs. Fay Ingalls' Babadora. Around the backstretch and the 4th, Whippernock held a slight advantage ahead of Babadora and Induction with Jockey M. Molony moving up steadily on F. Ambrose Clark's Pontius Pilate. At the 8th and last hurdle, Pontius Pilate was withstanding a determined bid from Induction as Whippernock had tired and relinquished his pace setting to drop back. Across the line it was Pontius Pilate, Induction, Mr. E. H. Bennett on Walter F. Wickes, Jr.'s Tourelay and Babadora.

The Laughlinton was another event over hurdles but this was at about 2 miles. The smallest field of the afternoon, 8 horses, went postward. Immediately after breaking, the field disappeared behind the trees on the far side of the course but coming into sight as they went to the 2nd hurdle, H. S. Horkheimer's Rank and I. A. Daffin's Crayon were handling the pace. Over the 3rd and 4th hurdles, which brought the field in front of the grandstand, Rank was setting a good pace with Arthur McCashin's *Mr. Man 2nd ahead of S. R. Fry's Joaljoy. At the 6th the two horses on top were the same but Crayon had moved into 3rd place ahead of Mrs. John Strawbridge, Jr.'s Hada Bar, then lost ground after putting in a bad one over the 7th.

After the 8th, the race was over as far as the winner was concerned. Positions changed a bit behind, but Golden Acres Stud's Elmont with Jockey F. D. Adams up, made his move and it proved to be a completely successful one as he galloped toward the last two hurdles with A. M. Hirsh's Swiggle and Joaljoy behind him. They finished in this order with Hada Bar 4th.

F. Ambrose Clark's Flying Dolphin had won a good steeplechase at the Radnor Hunt meeting and when Jockey B. Ansteatt broke him on top in The Rolling Rock Hunt Cup, the pair went over the 1st jump in top form. At the 3rd jump, Flying Dolphin held a 3-length lead over Mrs. C. E. Adams' *Gift of Gold and F. J. Hughes' Reno Stuart. With Trainer F. Bellhouse keeping close tab from the grandstand, it was still Flying Dolphin being called over the loudspeaker.

By the stands and over the 7th, the course lay downhill and as the field jumped the 8th, Jockey P. Nazar pulled Magic Price off the course. When the novice jockey accepted the mount on Magic Price he thought he was to ride in a hurdle race and he was making his first trip over the big jumps, which accounts for his confusion. Flying Dolphin still maintained quite a lead with *Gift of Gold 2nd and Jockey E. Phelps was 3rd on Main Earth Stable's Pilgrims Way, which position he had assumed over the 6th. Back at the 1st, which was now the 9th, the 8 leaders were the same and they went on over the 10th. Reno Stuart, which had dropped back, fell hard and G. B. Booth's Purple Shadow fell. This brought down R. W. Grant's Military Man and Jockey C. Williams as the pair jumped into a fallen horse. Pilgrims Way was closing ground and over the 13th and last, Flying Dolphin was in 2nd place behind Pilgrims Way with *Gift of Gold 3rd and another Adams' entry, Refugio, 4th. Pilgrims Way romped home easily to increase his advantage at the finish with Flying Dolphin 2nd. Refugio passed his tiring stablemate, *Gift of Gold in the stretch to finish 3rd.

Starter Plumb had his time fully occupied when he sent 18 horses off in The Ligonier, about 1 mile on the flat. Owner-trainer-rider Mr. Sidney Culver sent his chestnut mare, Momenta, out to set the pace and this she did for about a quarter of a mile but then F. Bellhouse, who had saddled the winner Pontius Pilate in the 1st race but donned racing silks for the last race, went to the front on F. Ambrose Clark's Greens Keeper. Greens Keeper, which had won on the flat at the Foxcatcher meeting, set a good pace but as the large field rounded the turn into the stretch, Jockey J. Zimmerman and Mrs. L. E. Stoddard, Jr.'s Port Ralder had assumed command and held the Clark color-bearer safe across the line. Third was Brooks Parker's *Wunderprinz, the winner on the flat at the Radnor Hunt Meeting but top-weighted at Rolling Rock with 161 lbs.

Gil Haus, who did such a top job in putting over this first day's meeting by having such a quantity of horses, did even more. The Army boys were on the go with their walkie-talkies at the barns and in the pouring rain it was a relief to stablemen to stay in with their entries for the next race until they were summoned—via walkie-talkie. Arthur McCashin ran into a bit of difficulty with the weather. Flying from New Jersey the day before the races, he was grounded at Reading, Pa. Checking the scheduled flights, he was unable to leave Reading until late. Arriving at Pittsburgh, he finally reached his destination with the aid of a

Rolling Rock Hunt Race Meeting

MAIN EARTH STABLES' PILGRIMS WAY, E. Phelps up, (right) was ahead of F. Ambrose Clark's Flying Dolphin, B. Ansteatt up, over the water jump in the Rolling Rock Hunt Cup on Sept. 28, the 1st day of the meeting; but not until the 13th and last jump was this son of *Tourist II able to take command; from there on he romped home an easy winner. Flying Dolphin was 2nd.

MRS. SARA B. MERRYMAN'S FALCHION, winner of the International Gold Cup on Oct. 1, missed being caught by the cameraman, but Mrs. C. E. Adams' Refugio, F. D. Adams up, (2nd) which looked to be the winner until Falchion overtook him after the last jump, is the gray next to the wing. Leader by a slight margin over the water jump is L. H. Nelles' Oak Leaf, J. Zimmerman up, (8th); Mrs. L. E. Stoddard, Jr.'s Port Raider, H. Harris up, (6th) is landing in the water; J. M. Mulford's The Colonel, E. Carter up, (7th) is clearing the jump; No. 3 is H. S. Horkheimer's Rank, B. Ansteatt up, (5th).

ALVIN UNTERMYER'S *DONE SLEEPING, Mr. E. Weymouth up, is returning to the judges stand after winning the Western Pennsylvania Hunt Cup on Oct. 1. Mrs. W. B. Cocks, wife of the trainer who conditions *Done Sleeping, looks pleased as she strides across the track. In the background is Mrs. T. Smith's Gold Bud, E. Phelps up, (5th).

GOLDEN ACRES STUD'S ELMONT, F. D. Adams up, (extreme right) was the winner of the Laughlinton (Sept. 28). Leading over the hurdle is H. S. Horkheimer's Rank, B. Ansteatt up, (7th); to the left, just rising to take the jump, is I. A. Daffin's Crayon, E. Phelps up, (5th); behind Rank is S. R. Fry's Joaljoy, C. Harr up, (3rd); to the right is Arthur McCashin's *Mr. Man, C. Williams up, (6th) followed by A. M. Hirsh's Swiggle, M. Molony up, (2nd).

HILDEGARDE (right) presented the International Gold Cup to Mrs. Sara B. Merryman (left) while Jockey C. Harr looked on. Mrs. Merryman's Falchion, besides winning the cup and the purse, also qualified for the Grand National Steeplechase, Aintree, England, since horses finishing 1st, 2nd, or 3rd in this race are eligible to compete in the 1950 running of the famous classic.

CLYNMALLYRA STUD'S *PERSEPOLIS, M. Molony up, winner of The Donegal on Oct. 1, is almost completely hidden by M. A. Cushman's Escarp, G. Riley up, (2nd) which led the field until after the 8th jump. Just rising to take the jump is I. A. Daffin's Crayon, E. Carter up, (3rd).

HUNT MEETINGS

Rolling Rock Races

Greyhound bus... Wilson Evans was the pilot, Ted Mohlman, Mrs. Dorothy Scott and Chris Wood were the passengers when they left Hinsdale, Ill., heading for Ligonier, Pa. The weather reports were fine but somebody miscalculated and Pilot Evans ran into heavy fog. Debating whether to head back for Akron or go on, it was decided to go on but the flyers put in at Pittsburgh and got a cab to take them to Ligonier. They arrived in time for the 2nd race.

Well over 13,000 people went to the second day of the Rolling Rock Hunt race meeting which was held on Saturday, Oct. 1, near Ligonier, Pa. With plenty of entries and few scratches, plus a perfect day for racing, there must have been some sort of record established among hunt meeting figures.

Timber enthusiasts seldom, if ever, get to see the top horses in this division face a starter together and while this leaves plenty of room for fireside conversation, it still leaves some points unsolved. Out of the 9 original entries in the Western Pennsylvania Hunt Cup which was a half-mile longer than the novice timber race on Wednesday, horses went postward. Mr. M. Smithwick rode Mrs. W. J. Clothier's Pine Pep, winner of this year's Maryland Hunt Cup; Mr. E. Weymouth substituted in the saddle for Mr. Smithwick on Alvin Untermyer's *Done Sleeping which had chalked up his last outing at Radnor; Mr. G. Stephens, who has been the only rider on Mrs. L. H. Kelly's Invulnerable and L. L. Chandler, 3rd's Royal Mission was up on the former while Mr. E. H. Bennett was in the irons on the latter. Jockey B. Anstett rode Miss Elizabeth Bosley's Mister Mars which, among his starts, had finished 2nd to Pine Pep in the Maryland Hunt Cup and had won at the Adjacent Hunts Meeting. George W. Cutting's Killay, which had lost her rider on Wednesday, had Jockey R. Utterback again in the saddle, while Mrs. T. Smith's Gold Bud (finished 2nd in the 1st day's novice timber race), again was ridden by Jockey E. Phelps.

Mister Mars broke on top with Pine Pep 2nd and Royal Mission next, but the latter horse was out of the race after the 1st jump as he jumped so big that he lost Mr. Bennett. Behind the clump of trees and through the gap for the 2nd jump, Killay was moving up and took over after the 3rd. *Done Sleeping was right behind with Invulnerable Mister Mars, Gold Bud and Pine Pep following. In front of the grandstand and over the 5th, Killay really stood back over this one and landed with about a length's advantage over *Done Sleeping. At the bottom of the hill and over the 7th, it was still Killay with Invulnerable now in 2nd position ahead of *Done Sleeping but *Done Sleeping passed Invulnerable approaching the 8th and the order remained the same over this one which marked a complete turn of the course.

The field was strung out as they disappeared behind the clump of trees and when they came into sight again and then over the 9th, Killay was running about 3 lengths on top with *Done Sleeping another 4 lengths ahead of Invulnerable and the order behind them was Mister Mars, Pine Pep, and Gold Bud. As Killay and *Done Sleeping rounded the turn toward the 11th, Mister Mars and Invulnerable were on even terms. Catching the field over the 14th after their down-hill gallop, Mister Mars had taken over the pace setting and Pine Pep had moved up behind him with Killay 3rd and over the 14th (second complete turn of the course), Mister Mars really landed running and was gaining ground. Out of sight behind the trees the two horses which were tincanning were Mister Mars and *Done Sleeping with the latter assuming the lead as they jumped the 16th. Pine Pep's hard luck, which had started in the paddock where he twisted a shoe and of course, had to have it fixed before the race could start, came to a conclusion in this race as he fell at the 16th.

From this jump to the finish line was just a matter of 2 jumps and ground to cover as far as *Done Sleeping and Mr. Weymouth were concerned. Jockey Anstett made a determined drive with Mister Mars but a bad jump over the 18th caused him to lose ground and *Done Sleeping was eased up to win easily. Invulnerable and Killay fought it out in the stretch drive and finished in that order with Gold Bud 5th and last.

A good field of 11 faced Starter A. H. Plumb in The Baywood which was about 1 3-4 miles over hurdles. Starting down in the bottom at the far end of the course, the field quickly went over the 1st hurdle and then disappeared behind the trees. Over the 2nd, Mrs. E. L. Holton's Busy Moments held a slight lead over Mrs. H. Ackman's Our Debenture and Mrs. Fay Ingalls' Babadora. Around the course and completing the turn which brought them to the 4th and by the grandstands, Babadora, W. F. Wickes, Jr.'s Tourelay and Frederick Greene's Sallin were holding the field safe and then the course lay over the temporary hurdle and then down hill. Babadora continued to lead over the 6th with G. Barone's Rescue 2nd and Samuel R. Fry's Joaljoy 3rd and after the 7th, the field once again headed toward the gap behind the trees. Here disaster befell the gallant little grey mare, Babadora. She was cut down and even though Jockey M. Ferral tried to pull her up, she continued on over the 8th before he was successful. Sallin was also pulled up. As the field raced toward the 9th, Jockey P. Smithwick had assumed command with Joaljoy while being challenged by Allan M. Hirsh's Dinwiddie which had been rated off the pace. Joaljoy was not to be caught and won by 6 lengths with Dinwiddie 2nd ahead of R. K. Mellon's Induction. Back at the 8th, Babadora was found to have suffered a severed tendon and Sallin had gone down. The mare will recover and will be retired to duties as a broodmare.

Jockey G. Riley was determined not to be left at the post on M. A. Cushman's Escarp when the field lined up for The Donegal, about 2 miles over hurdles. Time and again he and the chestnut gelding were edging up but when the flag did go down, Jockey E. Carter sent I. A. Daffin's Crayon off ahead of Escarp. Everyone was interested to see if Golden Acres Stud's Elmont would repeat his Wednesday victory but it appeared that the false starts had disgusted him and he was slow to leave the starting point. Escarp was not to be kept back and the race settled down early between him and Crayon. By the 5th hurdle, in front of the stands, Escarp was having his lead shortened by Mrs. L. L. Lose's On The Cuff as Crayon dropped back to 3rd ahead of Jockey M. Molony and Clynnmalyra Stud's *Persepolis.

Escarp's lead lasted until after the 8th, but here the Irish Jockey, who had flown over here just for the Rolling Rock Meeting, sent *Persepolis to the top and his riding from this point to the finish line was the envy of everyone. It was easy enough to see why Jockey Molony is one of Ireland's best in the 'chasing world and also why he turned in a winning performance on Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr.'s Trough Hill in Belmont's Brook Steeplechase on Thursday, Sept. 29. Escarp held on gamely at the finish and was 2nd by a nose in front of Crayon while Elmont was 4th.

Starters in the International Gold Cup started to the left of the grandstands but over the 1st jump, the field was reduced to 10 as Bayard Sharp's Lieut. Well lost Jockey W. Gallaher. Not minding a displaced jockey, Lieut. Well continued with the field but he didn't have a chance against Jockey B. Anstett and H. S. Horkheimer's Rank as this pair was setting a good pace. Over the 4th jump Rank was leading with Jockey O. A. Brown and Mrs. John Strawbridge, Jr.'s Hada Bar 2nd ahead of Mrs. C. E. Adams' Refugio. Jockey J. Zimmerman sent L. H. Nellie's Oak Leaf into command over the 5th but at the 6th, Jockey H. Harris took over the pace on Mrs. L. E. Stoddard Jr.'s Port Raider.

Over the 8th and a complete turn of the field, Port Raider was still leading with Oak Leaf 2nd and Hada Bar 3rd while Refugio was running in 4th position. After the 12th which was in the bottom, Jockey F. D. Adams began to move quickly on Refugio and in behind him was Jockey C. Harr. Port Raider and Oak Leaf, which had been alternating the lead, had dropped back. Through the gap and over the 13th, Refugio was extending his advantage and Hada Bar, which had not been called on, stood too far back and fell, leaving only his bridle in Jockey Brown's hands. As he galloped along in the final stages of the race, Refugio appeared to be running easily and there wasn't anything threatening him too much. However, as he landed after the 15th and headed for the turn and the last jump, Jockey Harr was really pushing Falchion along and this pair began to close the gap. Refugio landed over the last jump with about a neck's advantage but bringing Falchion up on the outside, Jockey Harr drove past the grey gelding to win by a length. Refugio was a safe 2nd with F. R. Crego's Magic Price 3rd ahead of R. K. Mellon's *Replica II.

*Morocco Bound stood quietly as 17 other horses milled around the starter before getting off in The Laurel Ridge, about 1 1-2 miles on the flat. The announcer called attention to Mrs. C. E. Adams' entry as the horses circled again and yet again but still *Morocco Bound failed to get excited. There was plenty of excitement as the field left the post but catching them at about the quarter, Mrs. Herbert A. May, Jr.'s Smoky City and Jockey M. Molony were on top with *Morocco Bound 2nd and Owner-rider-trainer Mr. S. Culver 3rd on Momenta. As the field had galloped down hill, Mrs. L. L. Lose's Lochincha bore a bit to the outside, stumbled and fell. Right behind him was John Strawbridge, Jr.'s Homesun and he and Jockey W. C. Hunsberger fell over Lochincha.

Paul Vipond's *Friese took over the pace setting but closing ground as they headed for the stretch was Arthur McCashin's *Mr. Man which had run in the hurdle event on Wednesday. Jockey M. Ferral really settled down on *Mr. Man in the stretch run and won with Allison Stern's *Qui Va La 2nd in front of Smoky City.

If the 2-day meeting at Rolling Rock were to be used as a standard there would never be any question about the continuation of hunt meetings—they would just go on ad infinitum.

SUMMARIES

THE RECTOR, abt. 1 1/2 mi., hurdles, 3 & up, mdms. Purse, $1,500. Net value to winner, $975; 2nd: $300; 3rd: $150; 4th: $75. Winner: ch. g. (3), by Pilate-Storming, by *Ksar. Trainer: F. Bellhouse. Breeder: David Novick. Time: 3:25 1-5.

  4. No Wings, (R. K. Mellon), 153, Mr. G. Stephens, (1st st.).
  5. Second Mate, (Dan Brewster), 158, Mr. D. Brewster, (9-10-49, F. H., timber, 4th).
  6. Tahltan, (D. D. Odell), 148, Mr. C. Cushman, (1st st.).
  7. Athaniel, (Mrs. H. O'Brien), 160, Mr. M. Smithwick, (9-17-49, Mal., timber, 4th).
  8. Killay, (G. W. Cutting), 150, R. Utterback, (4-24-49, War., timber, fell).
  9. Ecnece, (Evelyn Thompson), 160, Mr. E. H. Bennett, (10-30-46, F. H., timber, 5th).
- Sutton Hoo rated well off early pace, made successful bid in final stages. Gold Bud up early, was restrained until latter part of race but could not close gap at finish. Jack Lee made a determined bid in stretch to improve position. No Wings jumped well in early stages while in contending position but tired. Second Mate showed an even effort. Tahltan tired. Athaniel fell at 14th. Killay lost rider at 15th. Ecnece pulled up after 11th. Scratched: Flare Flight, Field Gunner, Coq D'Fantome, Fonsilver, Tiger's Task.

THE LAUGHLINTOWN, abt. 3 mi., hurdles, 3 & up, cap. Purse, $2,500. Net value to winner, $1,625; 2nd: $500; 3rd: $250; 4th: $125. Winner: b. g. (4), by Rosemont—Electra, by Sweeping Light. Trainer: E. Johnson. Breeder: William duPont, Jr. Time: 4:50.

Physiology of the Foxhound

Both the Thoroughbred Horse and the Hound Are Breeds Manufactured To Gallop At Speed With An Eye To Stamina

C. R. Acton

There are many items of similarity between the fox-hound and the Thoroughbred race-horse. In the first place, both are manufactured breeds and are, therefore, artificial, in that they have been evolved by the process of mating by selection on the part of the breeder. In the second place, both have been manufactured entirely with an eye to work and work only. It stands to reason therefore, that when two breeds have been produced for very much the same purpose, i. e. galloping at speed with an eye to stamina, the outstanding and all-embracing points of both will be the same, and those points will be balance and symmetry.

It is noticeable that an average lady can, very frequently, decide that there is something wrong with a horse or a hound when an average man has overlooked the possibility of a fault, and that is because an average lady has often more of an eye for balance and symmetry than has the average man. But when she has detected that there is something wrong it needs the eye of the expert to decide what that something is.

Balance in a foxhound represents a perfectly proportioned piece of mechanism; a piece of mechanism that has been manufactured for the purpose of galloping, jumping, trotting, walking and, what is perhaps the most important, of sustaining locomotion in these various forms all day. It is essential that a foxhound should return to kennels at the close of a hard day with its stern up and showing no signs of fatigue, and the first way in which this can be achieved is by breeding for balance and symmetry and thereby avoiding the possibility of degeneration by accentuating any particular points at the expense of others. The lines upon which the breeding is conducted are, of course, all important, so are levelness and condition, but in this article I will confine myself to the actual points of the working hound.

In "The Modern Fox-hound" I described the points of a hound as follows:—"The chief thing to be looked for in a hound is balance, symmetrical balance, with activity and the hard look of a fox-catcher about his (or her) general attitude. The neck should be long with the upper curve seen in that of a swan; the shoulders well laid, not coarse or lumpy; forelegs straight with the bone going right down; elbows set square; knees straight, neither knuckling over nor falling back; feet round and cat-like, but not turned in and he must stand full on them and not on the tips of his toes; with the hind legs, the loins should be strong and gently curving, hocks well under the hound. The back should be strong and with cushions of muscle on each side of the spine, just a suspicion of a 'roach' in the back—the 'racing arch' some call it—but not 'chopped off'; ribs nicely sprung; stern curved, but not tightly so, the tip of it slightly feathery.

"The head is the least important point, but the eyes and the set of the mouth display the character of the hound. The flews should not be too pronounced, and both sets of incisors should meet. Underhanging and swine-chop are both serious faults, and hereditary at that. From a show point of view the neck should be clean, but I cannot see that throatiness is a fault; it nearly always means that the hound is musical.

"Height for dog-hounds, about twenty-four inches; bitches, twenty-two and a half.

"Above all, when judging a hound, the individual points are not so important as balance, activity, and symmetry, but watch out for swine-chop".

With balance goes the co-ordination of movement, which is represented by rhythm, smoothness and complete harmony of muscular action. The chief factor for co-ordination of movement is the cerebellum, a collection of fibres and ganglion cells in communication with the bulb and cerebrum.

The path by which the brain and the body are brought into connection is the spinal chord, from whence, also, the constrictor fibres issue, which supply every vessel in the body where constrictor nerves exist with constrictor influence.

Colin's rule for the centre of gravity of a horse when at rest can be adapted to suit a hound. It is that if a vertical line be dropped just behind the ensiform cartilage of the sternum, and intersected by a horizontal one passing through the lower part of the middle third of the body, the point of intersection is the centre of gravity of the body at rest.

During motion the centre oscillates from front to rear, depending upon the position of the body and the pace at which the hound is travelling. It is in front of the normal at rest when the hound's forelegs are coming to the ground and behind it when the hind legs are coming to the ground.

In galloping, the forelegs take the largest share of propelling the weight. There is a great difference between propulsion and impulsion. Propulsion is the propelling, or bearing along, of weight. Impulsion is force suddenly communicated. When galloping, the heel of the foot comes to the ground first, the hind legs break the shock of the falling body, and the forelegs take the largest share of propelling the weight, of carrying it onwards.

What we should describe as drive is the effect of the idea of force suddenly conveyed, and which is carried out by the hind quarters. The pelvis forms a fixed point for the levering power of the hind legs. The effect of impulsion is to drive the whole body forward at speed, but, though the impulsion comes from the hind quarters, the propulsion is distributed over the body, and the largest share in this propulsion of the weight is born by the forelegs.

It was Lupton who first discovered that the largest share in propelling the weight of a galloping horse was borne by the forelegs, and his views were proved to be correct by the assistance of instantaneous photography both as regards horses and hounds.

A Newmarket trainer once said to me:—"No shoulders, no horse" and I can call to mind the dictum of George Searle, the huntsman of the East Sussex Foxhounds of some years ago. It was:—"Necks and shoulders! Necks and shoulders! If you breed for necks and shoulders the rest will come!" By this he did not propose to breed for an accentuation of necks and shoulders, but he meant that, in a perfectly balanced and proportioned hound, necks and shoulders were of the very greatest importance as the majority of the weight of the hound was propelled by the forelegs.

Propulsion is the power that is the result of flexion and extension. The muscles of a hound are attached to bones which form angles of varying size by their movements. These angles open and close during any form of locomotion.

When galloping, the strain of concussion comes upon the feet and muscles of the limbs, elasticity of muscles reduces the force of the concussion. There are actually moments, during the process of the gallop, when the entire weight of the hound's body is poised upon one foreleg. This very fact alone might almost serve to prove the necessity for what is described as a quality forehead.

DOG CHOW IS THE BASIC DIET FOR MOSE HILL'S hard-running hounds

At Mose Hill's place near Waco, Kentucky, hounds are run regularly and hard over very rugged country. Regular exercise and a steady, balanced diet keep the well-known Hill pack in top condition all the time. When the field trials begin, the Checkerboard Purina Dog Chow bag goes right along with the pack. Hill's big, tough Walkers are proof-positive of the value of a year-round conditioning program—with Dog Chow as the basic diet.

Herring Introduces Victorian Artists Of Reserved School

The picture on the cover is a good example of the work of one of the most popular 19th century British Sporting Artists, J. F. Herring. During his career, Herring painted 18 winners of the Derby, 33 successive winners of the St. Leger, and countless other groups of horses and horsemen of the Victorian period.

Herring began by making his living as a whip on the Highflyer coach between London and York when he forsook this profession for that of an artist, he took with him a complete knowledge, at first hand, of coaching and its episodes. Oddly enough, however, Herring rarely painted a coach scene. Herring's pieces were numerous although he could have had little opportunity to indulge in the sport. There is a graceful dignity about work which is in considerable contrast to the more vigorous scenes of Henry Alken.

One would have thought that Herring's early and vigorous life on the stagecoach would have caused him to instill into his pictures this same virility and love of action. Quite the contrary, Herring's pictures are marked with reserve, restraint, and a quiet gentleness of tone. As Walter Sparrow says of him, "Herring in art is not the Herring who faces a very raw ordeal as driver of a stage coach. Herring developed his own style. He was painstaking, and vitally sincere in his work. He sought out Abraham Cooper, another self made artist who started from lowly beginnings, to instruct him. He must have been a man of much patience and self control who worked out his style in his own fashion, and only after immense effort. This restraint shows in his paintings. He was a man who was not bent on dazzling the world with new ideas but who wished to impress it with the sincerity of his efforts."

Foxhound Physiology

In the process of jumping, the forelegs give the body its propulsion upwards: both hind legs are momentarily fixed upon the ground and they then propel the body forward.

Upon landing from a jump, the hound arrives upon its fore feet, but the force of concussion is relieved as the hind legs touch the ground, owing to the fact that the convex formation of the loins immediately takes up the strain of the concussion. The loin muscles are connected with those of the hind legs, and strength of backs and loins are essential. A slack-loined hound is absolutely useless owing to the fact that such a weakness would have an adverse effect upon the movement of the entire hindquarters, with a result that the hound could neither stay nor jump and would give little or no answer to the communication from the cerebrum.

The prolonged muscular exertion entailed by galloping and jumping all day is sustained by an adequate supply of oxygenated blood sent to the muscles by a strong and regular pumping power, a rapid flow through the lungs which must be properly ventilated.

A foxhound has thirteen pairs of ribs; nine fixed, three connected by cartilages and one floating, which latter end in the abdominal wall. For the free expansion of heart and lungs well sprung ribs are a necessity, for flatness of sides means unequal expansion of heart and lungs and adversely affects the breathing of the hound. I have heard it said that this is the most difficult thing in hound-breeding, i. e. the production of a quality forehead together with a good spring of ribs. More than one huntsman and M. F. H. has said to me:—"If you want a quality forehead you can't help their being flat". However, I disagree.

Such a remark is, I am afraid, a confession of failure and the desire to make excuses. It is possible to produce a quality forehead with good spring of ribs and I can instance five packs, the Devon and Somerset, the Berkeley, the New Forest, the Quorn, and the College Valley. These are, probably, the five highest quality bitch packs in England; all five are noticeable for perfectly lovely forehands, and all five are equally noticeable for splendid spring of ribs.

I cannot over-emphasize the necessity for a quality forehead. The position of the head affects the weight upon the legs. When the head is up, the forelegs have less weight to carry than when it is down, but as a hound's head is down all the time it is working, the forelegs, being nearer to the centre of gravity, have extra weight thrown upon them, hence the necessity for the swan-like neck, and the shoulders that slope into the muscles of the back, to bear their share in the working of this exquisitely balanced piece of machinery.

When turning to feet and legs:—The foreleg must be set on straight, the elbow well above the sternum, running parallel with the walls of the chest. The fore-limbs consist of:—shoulderblade; joint of shoulder; bone of the upper arm, or humerus; point of elbow, or ulna; forearm; wrist, knee-joint, or carpus; small carpal bones; metacarpal bones; basal phalanges; middle phalanges; terminal phalanges.

The hind-limbs consist of:—bone of the upper leg, thigh or femur; patella; tibia; fibula; stifle joint; bones and joints of tarsus; metatarsal bones; basal phalanges; middle phalanges; terminal phalanges.

The foot should have no accentu-ations. For a time the great curse of foxhound breeding was the knuckling-over-knee and club foot that were so unsightly. That craze has given way to the desire for a natural foot so that a hound will not place all his weight entirely on his toes. The foot must be short, with a deep and fleshy pad or heel, so as to obtain the maximum surface possible for carrying the weight of the body.

I hope to touch upon the subject of hound's feet in a later article; differing opinions have been produced as to relative value of cat-feet and hare-feet and it might not be without interest to compare the types in detail.

To sum up:—balance and symmetry are obtained by breeding, in the first place, for necks and shoulders; secondly, for muscular quarters and strong backs and loins with, at the same time, well-sprung ribs to give plenty of room for the full play of heart and lungs; and balance and symmetry are the all-embracing essentials for the modern foxhound.

The heart of balanced feeding...

A food such as Gaines Meal is no mere filler... it's a scientifically balanced mixture designed to provide all food elements essential to a normal dog's well-being... plus extra amounts of vitamins and key minerals.

When Gaines Meal is the main part of a dog's diet, supplementation is generally unnecessary and uneconomical... but it's good to know that Gaines' safety margin offsets the nutritive deficiencies of meat or other food added as a palate tickler or for special dietary reasons.

So take full advantage of the balance Gaines Meal has been designed to provide... take advantage of its economy in terms of nutrition... make Gaines the main part of every feeding.

Sunday, September 25, was bright and cool—an ideal day for the postponed polo match between the Ivory Rangers and the Milwaukee Polo Club which had been rained out the previous week. The Milwaukee Polo Club is the National Twenty Goal Champion, but the team which trotted on to the international size field at Detroit, Mich., represented only two of the men who played in the championship matches—Bob Uihlein (the team's captain) and Pedro Silvero (the Argentine 6-goal star).

The game turned out to be a bigger upset than anyone expected. The 6-chukker match ended 12-3 in favor of the Rangers. The game was played on the flat; that is, no allowance was made in the difference of the teams total handicaps. Reviewing the handicap strength of the two teams; the Ivory Rangers of Detroit with A. J. (Mac) Stefani at No. 1 holding a goal rating of 1, Bill Barry at No. 2 holds a 7 goal handicap; Jack Ivory at No. 3 is rated with 3 goals; and Harry (Dutch) Evinger playing the back is rated at 7 goals; giving the Rangers a total handicap of 20 goals. Milwaukee with Bob Walters at No. 1 rated at 4 goals; Pedro Silvero at No. 2 rated at 6 goals; Cross at No. 3 has a handicap of 4, and Bob Uihlein at No. 4 possesses a rating of 2 goals—total for Milwaukee is 16 goals. Jack Ivory easily led his team with 6 of their total score. Ivory was playing away over his goal rating and has consistently played better polo this year than his rating would indicate. A. J. (Mac) Stefani (Ivory's brother-in-law) who was starred all season for the Rangers in the indoor-outdoor game was playing over his handicap rating. Today Stefani played stellar polo and accounted for 3 of the Rangers' goals. Bill Barry is credited with 2 in today's score while Dutch Evinger accounted for one but he also contributed substantially in playing a splendid back position. Despite the unbalanced 12-3 score the Milwaukee Polo Club put up a first-class game. Pedro Silvero accounted for 2 of the Milwaukee score and Tom Cross the third. These points were made in the last two chukkers of the event as the Milwaukee team had gone scoreless until the fifth period. Although Bob Walters at No. 1 and Bob Uihlein at No. 4 did not score, both contributed brilliant playing throughout most of the chukkers. Uihlein played an excellent defensive game comparable in many chukkers to the opposing team's No. 4.

The old Ivory to Stefani and vice versa combination that has been so active in the Wednesday night games was certainly clicking today. Ivory was the first man to tally in today's match followed closely by Stefani's first-chukker score. Barry accounted for one goal early in the period. Stefani again scored and Ivory's second goal totalled 5 for Detroit against none for Milwaukee at the end of the first chukker.

Milwaukee stopped this onslaught during the succeeding chukkers and Detroit's scoring was spaced throughout the balance of the game. In the second period Ivory tallied the only goal for either team, bringing the Rangers' lead of 6-0 at the end of the quarter.

The half ended with Ivory and Barry scoring one each in the third chukker which ended 8-0.

The fourth period found Milwaukee still scoreless but they held the Rangers to only one tally which was made again by Ivory ending the period 9-0.

The Rangers entered the fifth chukker with a 9 point lead and closed the chukker with an 11 point lead. Evinger and Ivory each scored one goal in the fifth period with Milwaukee's initial tally in the same chukker.

The sixth and final period was the only time Milwaukee showed a lead for the chukker-score. Silvero and Cross each scored one goal for Milwaukee while Stefani was the sole scorer for the Rangers ending the match 12-3.

The Pontiac Chiefs again had little difficulty in handing a defeat to the Detroit Juniors 5 to 3 in the preliminary game.

Winter Prospects For Polo Improved After Good Summer

William F. Goodrich

In a little while the polo boys will either be indoors or readying themselves for the winter season in Florida.

No matter how you prefer your polo it's a cinch to be better than at any other time since 1939. The 24th indoor season opens at the Squadron A armory November 12. A short time later, just as soon as some of the players return from South America, the Delray, Palm and Miami beach seasons will begin to take form.

The plans are big both indoors and out. Lyman T. Whitehead, Jr., chairman of the Squadron A polo committee, is highly optimistic. Big George Oliver is to be commended for his work in bringing about the best open championship in a long, long time. Oliver, hurt in California in the U. S. series with Venado Tuerto last spring, missed the open because of a fall from a pony earlier this month at Blind Brook.

Oliver's bit of hard luck may have a telling effect on the U. S. chances in the Argentine Open and the Cup of Americas series. The big fellow would have been a great help on the squad. Oliver hasn't planned on going to Argentine even as a spectator at this writing. The California injury was a leg affair. The Blind Brook mishap developed into a dislocated shoulder.

Ivory Rangers Beat National Champions In 4-Chukker Match

Kenneth S. Drake

Bob Uihlein's Milwaukee Polo Club, which defeated the Ivory Rangers in the final game of the National Twenty Goal Championship in August, lost a 4-chukker match 9-4 to the Ivory Rangers on September 21. The game was the first of a series to be played here and the only one of the series played on the "short field".

The visiting Milwaukee team holds an imposing list of wins in the Middlewest. The team is captained by Robert Uihlein and supported by Pedro Silvero at No. 1 and Tom Cross at No. 2. Silvero is another of the Argentines who have come to the United States since the war and have contributed substantially in polo. The two teams were perfectly matched insofar as the handicap ratings. Tom Cross and Bob Uihlein brought the total handicap to 14 while the Rangers rode in with Jack Ivory (captain), A. J. (Mac) Stefani at No. 1, and Hank Evinger at No. 3 also with a 14 goal handicap. It has been said that about 85 percent of the game is the mounts. Milwaukee is well mounted and shipped over the club's best.

Both teams showed brilliant playing. A. J. (Mac) Stefani took possession of the ball for the Detroit club almost immediately and succeeded in making the only score for either team in the first chukker. The opening period was a little choppy. Milwaukee was feeling its way and trying to gauge their shots but played a good defensive period which is evidenced by the 1-0 score where it ended.

The second chukker Jack Ivory scored early to take the 2-0 lead for Detroit. Following Ivory's tally, Tom Cross of the Milwaukee trio was in the very good position to intercept Detroit's ball at approximately wick field, Bethpage, Blind Brook, Pittsfield, Fairfield, Farmington, and Fort Hamilton, have shown a strong desire to ride indoors. The rest will take their play Florida style.

In summing the winter polo situation up you will have to admit the picture looks very good.

In passing out orchids, we don't wish to forget the untiring work of Bobby Strawbridge, Dev Milburn, Alan Corey, Jr., Henry Lewis III, George C. Sherman, Jr., Pete Bostwick, Bud Dowling, and the others who put polo across this summer.

The six-team open championship, featuring the play of Mexico and El Trebol of Argentine, is something we'd like to see more of. Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes with Larry Sheerin, Roberto Cavanagh and Cecil Smith won the open title for the second straight season by 10 to 4 over El Trebol.

The very same unit also retained the Monty Waterbury handicap title by 12 to 8 over Bostwick Field.

Polo's successful return to Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, was another feather in the cap of Oliver and the Monahan brothers—Jack and Ray.

midfield. Cross with an official accounted for the Milwaukee score in tonight's match. The ball soared through the air straight true over the heads of the players and into the center of the goal. At this point Ivory who was playing Detroit's territory, dropped his mallet and left the playing area to secure a replacement. A new mallet does not stop the play with one man short the Rangers in possession of the ball moved play into the dangerously close vicinity of the Milwaukee goal. With a new mallet reentered the field and scored with one direct hit. Silvero then scored to bring his total to 2. Stefani accounted for the final tally in this quarter end the chukker 4-2.

Following the half Stefani scored in accounting for 2 goals in the third chukker and supported by Evinger's third-chukker tally the 7-2 lead for Detroit which kept the game on ice. Late in the third period Silvero added another point Milwaukee bringing the total to 3.

The final quarter of the game played very tight. Uihlein and favorite Smitty had played aggressively throughout. Cross for waukee accounted for his club's score in the fourth chukker, and Evinger each contributed a point which ended the match 9-4.

The Pontiac Chiefs had little difficulty in disposing of the Detroit Hills trio 11-4 in a preliminary chukker match.

make riding horses allows entry in only one section. This has done much toward showing the farmer breeders what type is required and what crosses will best suit his mares.

Nearly all entries in the suitable to become hunter section were by Thoroughbred horses and showed a definitely uniform hunter type. Colts entered in the riding horse section were mostly by Hackney horses and were more of the road hack type but this cross is also very popular in the production of jumpers. Entries in the hunter classes were a bit larger, and in both sections, the yearling classes were the biggest showing that the breeding of light horses is definitely on the increase in Ontario.

Fifteen yearlings were entered in the suitable to become hunters class. They were a good lot with the ones owned by show stable interests showing better finish than those exhibited by farmer breeders. The C. N. E. comes at a bad time of year for farmer breeders to prepare colts for a show and we shall expect to see even better classes for colts at the Royal Winter Fair in November.

THEESOME ARRIVES

On October 3rd, the most valuable cargo to land in America on 4 legs and one ship arrived at Pier 60 aboard the American Shipper. Ardan Ambiorix and Black Tarquin came down the gang plank to be greeted by Neil Newman who was at the dock early to superintend the unloading, with interested owners. A reputed price of $500,000 was paid for Ardan although this is not confirmed. Mr. Woodward's Black Tarquin will stand at A. B. Hancock's along with Ambiorix. As a conservative value for Black Tarquin is $250,000 and as Marcel Boussac was reported to have sold Ambiorix to the American syndicate of Messrs. Hancock, Ogden Phipps and Mrs. H. C. Phipps for $250,000, this was quite a shipment. Superintendent Neil Newman must have heaved a sigh of relief when the last member of his cargo landed on the dock. Ardan went to Belmont Park to Royce Martin's stables to get rid of his sea legs. He was then shipped to Mr. Combs' Spendthrift Farm Thursday. George Warner's barn at Belmont housed Black Tarquin and Ambiorix was quartered at Jim Fitzsimmons' barn at Aqueduct.

MILL CREEK'S OPENING

Joint-Masters Mrs. James Simpson, Jr. and Hulburd Johnson of Mill Creek's re-established hunt at Wadsworth, Illinois, have been doing a great job with youngsters. Saturday the 17th of September there was a special day for juniors and 22 young people turned out. They were all as neat pins, well mounted, and went the way only keen young foxhunters can go, determinedly and enthusiastically. The jumps were just right and everyone of the 22 came through the day with flying colors. At one point, hounds checked whereupon Huntsman Carey Rogers made a perfect round the hat cast as the young Field sat their ponies approvingly in the middle of the crown. Hounds were off again with the ponies flying along behind Mrs. Simpson who acted as Field Master while Hulburd Johnson, brought up the rear guard with Mrs. Charles Coffin. A row of 4 small velvet caps was left behind, which the rear guard collected. Their owners, with the pace "too good to inquire", had just kept right on going. Faulty elastics are minor matters in a young foxhunter's day.

The next day at Mill Creek, the first formal hunt was held. Among the visitors were Carter Brown all the way from Castle Park, Michigan, with the A. D. Plamondon's. Hounds put in some good performances and the Mill Creek followers could well be proud of the effort that has put this hunt on its feet again after having been on the inactive list since 1942. The farsighted efforts of the staff to encourage youngsters should go far towards keeping this particular part of Illinois' sporting ball rolling for a long time to come.

BAD LUCK IN THREES

The Graham Doughertys of The Blue Ridge Hunt, Berryville, Virginia have had a protracted spell of bone breaking bad luck. It started with Graham Dougherty Jr., who broke 3 ribs. A slip on a rug brought Mrs. Dougherty senior down a cropper early this fall and x-Rays showed broken veterbrae. No sooner had she arrived back from the Winchester Hospital sealed up tightly in a cast than M. F. H. Graham Dougherty Sr. dove through some concealed wire while out with hounds last Saturday. Hospital authorities are not yet sure of the extent of his injuries, but believe he has a cracked pelvis and cracked veterbra. In the emergency, daughter Mrs. Howard Wood was summoned from the Chester River on the Chesapeake to handle the recuperating process.

SPORT IN HONG KONG

Just before his return to America, Philip Crowe, who is now recuperating from a heart attack, and back in this country wrote to the Becher Hungerfords of the sporting horse fanciers of Hong Kong. "Despite the imminent fall of Canton," wrote Mr. Crowe, "and the very real possibility of an attack on the Crown Colony, horse fanciers of Hong Kong have imported some 400 2-year-olds from the Antipodes and discuss the fall's racing as if they were living in Melton Mowbray of the Regency."

According to the Master of the Fanling Hunt in Hong Kong, Mr. Alexander, foxhunters have serious trouble with the Cantonese weakness for dog meat. Mortality among the hounds is correspondingly high while to cook dog meat, natives seem to prefer timber rails and hunt paneling. They feel a good chestnut rail adds great flavor to hound steak. "It is discouraging, you know to lose young entry to the pot", says M. F. H. Alexander.

METAMORA'S FIVE THIRTY FIELD

Metamora started their hunting early this year. Joint Masters William Clark and Ben Colman had hounds out at 5:30 cubbing during August. In fact by 5:30 hounds were actually drawing their first coverts. While a number of hunts are doing the same thing in August, Metamora is unique in having on one August morning, the 13th no less than 75 in the Field at 5:30 A. M. The Joint-Masters report there seems to be a growing interest among the younger generation with the number of guests and young riders on the increase.

Five thirty is an early hour for many but to a dyed in the wool foxhunter, certainly during August and late into September, it is the best time to go foxhunting. There is plenty of moisture in the grass, it is cool, and more important, foxes are still abroad from their night's hunting. On one of its early morning fixtures, for instance, the 5:30 Metamora Field were able to run 4 foxes and viewed a total of six. Eight and nine o'clock fixtures may be more comfortable hours for many, but foxes still prefer sunrise.

MARYLAND'S FALL SALES

Maryland's Fall Sales at Pimlico and Timonium the end of the month will have some 200 horses to offer horsemen this year. The quality of the horses in training will be led by Colonel OF being sold by C. C. Tanner. The black son of Teddy's Comet won $97,650 through 1948, and did not start this year. Other consignors are Chester Hockley who is offering broodmares, Melville Church, Justin Funkhouser and Mrs. Van Lear Black. George Swinebroad will auction both sales, the entries for which close this week end. The offerings are the best that Maryland has had for some years.

SUCCESS AGAINST CRIBBING

A cribbing operation was performed on September 26th at Warm Springs, Virginia, which sets a precedent for this type of operation in Virginia. Dr. John E. Gadd of Towson, Md., assisted by Dr. John F. Spangler of Warm Springs operated on a yearling filly of Allan M. Hirsh at Mr. Hirsh's Meadow Lane Farm. This successful operation was first performed by Dr. V. Orsel of Sweden and consists of removing three pairs of muscles from the neck of the horse. It is effective in preventing further cribbing. In Virginia at least this kind of operation is believed not to have been performed before.

STAR BLEN AT ANNANDALE

Ravenworth Farm at Annandale, Virginia, will have Star Blen there this season. By *Blenheim II out of Star Weed, Star Blen was bred by Calumet Farm and is the property of Mrs. Penelope M. Rowland. Along with the stallion came 3 mares, two with colts by Star Blen and one with a filly by Eternal Bull. The mares are now in foal to Star Blen.

OAKS HUNT OPENS SEASON

The Oaks Hunt had its first formal fixture of the season on Long Island at Lakeville Manor on October 2nd. A drag was laid over some new country in the North Hills. Genial host the Squire of Lakeville Manor, Mr. O'Grady, served up his famous stirrup cup. Hounds were laid on the drag by Huntsman Jay and a good field followed the Joint Masters P. J. Knickerbocker and Ann Ottarson with Field Master Pierre Dauvergne keeping back the thrusters.

seems to them unfair. And as for the instructors—well, they have to teach what they believe, but they find it discouraging to see their pupils placed down because they have learned well.

There are probably angles to this that I have not thought about—but is the idea worth discussing?

Next Olympics

Dear Editor:

The Chester County Olympic Three Day Test held in conjunction with the Combined Shows at Devon last week was a marvellous spectacle, and particularly the Endurance Phase on the second day was the finest test of a horse and rider that I have ever seen.

It seems to me that the retirement of the Army from the horse show game has left the door open to private owners to move in on this event at the next Olympics. It takes time and skill to train a horse for such an event, but what greater thrill could there be than having an entry in the Olympics with the possibility of winning an event?

This opportunity has not existed before, and I believe that it is one that all owners should seriously consider while there is still time to get a horse ready.

We at Radnor are indeed grateful to Mr. Brooks Parker for initiating this grand test and opening our eyes to the possibilities of the future.

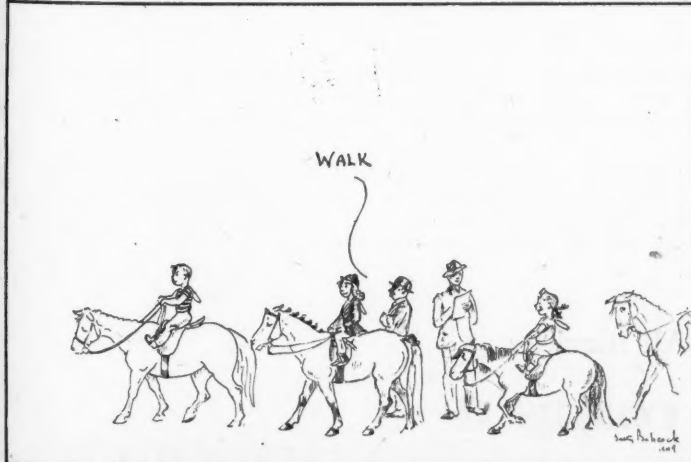

Very truly yours,

W. L. Van Alen

Philadelphia, Pa.

Chronicle Quiz Answers

1. Endurance.
2. The performance of 33,000 foot pounds of work in a minute. A foot pound is the amount of work done in lifting one pound one foot against the force of gravity. Horse power is computed by multiplying the force which is acting, expressed in pounds, by the distance in feet through which it moves in one minute and dividing the result (the foot pounds of work) by 33,000. For example, if a horse exerts a pull of 150 pounds while traveling at a speed of 2.5 miles per hour (220 feet per minute) it will perform 150 times 220 foot pounds of work a minute or 33,000 foot pounds which equals one horse power.
3. Yes, ear corn reduces the danger of colic and helps to avoid the condition of the gums known as lampas.
4. Back, cannon bone, dock, ears.
5. ROADING is to exercise hounds on the road. WALKING hounds is to keep them separately away from kennels during puppyhood so that they can run at large.
6. The owner of Rysdyk's Hambletonian, foundation sire of the Standardbred.

YOUNG FRY

A change of pace sets the best laid plans awry among the younger divisions in the growing world of horsemanship. It's a far cry from a walk to a canter.

★ARDAN-----"Our Type Of Horse" Has Just Arrived

b. or br. 1942, 16 hands.

by the unbeaten Pharis out of Adargatis, by Asterus

"ARDAN has never taken a lame step. He has the best legs and feet, good neck and shoulders. A high couraged horse who loved to get to the front as early as possible and fought out his finishes like a lion."—Neil Newman.
